Night and Day Raids Climax Historic Week of Attacks

LONDON, April 14 (AP).—R.A.F. Mosquitos bombed Berlin last night, probably with two-ton blockbusters, and American fighter-bombers attacked a German airfield in Northeastern France today to climax an historic week-long, two-way Allied aerial assault on Axis Continental targets vital to the defence of the Western Front.

The Budapest radio reported tonight that Allied planes were over Budapest and Gyor, Hungary, indicating possibility that Mediterranean-based forces were continuing the great air offensive.

The Mosquito and Thunderbolt raids from Britain last night and today while sharp, were on a relatively minor scale, representing a tapering-off of the massive blows begun last Saturday. During the week crippling blows were dealt to at least 13 German aircraft factories, 17 airfields and 14 railroad centres figuring prominently in the Nazis' preparations for resisting the forthcoming Allied invasion from the west.

The American daylight raiders swooped out of a cloudbank over the airfield in France so suddenly today they caught about 50 aircraft on the ground and raked them almost at leisure, destroying a score. Fires were set in the installations as bombs burst among the Nazi planes. The raid was made without loss.

Last night the swift British plywood Mosquitos, striking the Nazi capital for the first time since March 24, also hit objectives in Western Germany and R.C.A.F. bombers laid mines in enemy waters without loss.

Squadrons of Mosquitos flew through an electrical storm to make the night attacks. The crews, bombing on ground markers, clearly saw the flash of their bombs through the glare of about 250 Berlin searchlights. Anti-aircraft fire was intense.

In a scattered raid over Southeast England and the London area last night, the Germans caused only slight damage and lost two planes.

Giraud Placed On Retired List

ALGIERS, April 14 (AP).—The French National Commitee of Liberation completed its ouster of Gen. Henri Giraud as French commander-in-chief by placing him on the retired list tonight. Giraud's friends said his acceptance was virtually certain.

The committee acted, spokesmen said, when it became convinced Giraud would not revoke his refusal to accept the inspector-generalship of French forces, as voiced in his bitter Easter Sunday letter to Gen. Charles De Gaulle.

Associates said Giraud plans to leave North Africa, probably for Britain, to write his memoirs. His final order of the day to troops was awaited eagerly by Giraudists and De Gaullists alike.

Having failed to obtain Allied intervention in his behalf, Giraud had told associates he would leave the commandership if the committee pushed him out—but insisted, for the sake of the record, on being ousted. He had contended that abolition of the post of commander-in-chief was illegal in wartime.

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

LONDON, April 14—The Red Army is now in the Crimea Republic's capital of Simferopol, has taken the important ports of Feodosiya and Yevpatoriya, and is rapidly sweeping over the whole peninsula.

More than 20,000 German and Rumanian prisoners have been captured in the great tank drive, and the ridiculous spectacle was seen of Rumanians, whose boats the Germans had seized, being made prisoners while paddling in shallow lagoons with their boots and not rifles, in their hands.

The Times' Moscow correspondent says the Russians are making a series of parallel advances into Rumania, where the peasants, after the passage of Soviet forces, are returning to their homes satisfied they will not be molested.

According to the German radio, Marshal Antonescu, Rumanian dictator, has been inspecting troops in Northern Moldavia. He finds "the military situation very good."

Submarine Has Duel With Tanks

LONDON, April 14 (CP).—Something new has been added to submarine warfare by the Royal Navy's submarine Unshaken—a gun duel with German tanks.

On a recent patrol of the Mediterranean, Unshaken's commander, Lieutenant J. Whitton, set a course close to shore and noticed a suspension bridge used by enemy transport.

"We decided to have a party," he said. "Tanks on the road replied but with little effect. We obtained hits on girders and buttresses of the bridge and two hits on a factory."

Shoot Down 36 German Planes

NAPLES, April 14 (AP).—Allied Mediterranean airmen shot down 36 German planes yesterday in extensive operations, which included attacks on airfields and plants in Hungary at a cost of 16 heavy bombers and three other aircraft, headquarters announced today.

On the land fronts there were only patrol and artillery engagements in one of the quietest days in months, but on Wednesday the Anzio beachhead anti-aircraft gunners enjoyed one of their most successful days by shooting down five of 40 or 50 enemy raiders.

The prime targets in yesterday's heavy bomber attacks were aircraft plants at Gyor and Duna and airfields at Vecses and Tokol, all within a 70-mile radius of the Hungarian capital at Budapest. Explosives were dumped on grounded aircraft, and the entire factory area at Gyor, where German fighters are produced, was reported well covered with bombs.

Other air fleets hit the railway yards at Brod in Yugoslavia, dock installations at Corfu and objectives along the Dalmatian coast. Italian railroad bridges and lines feeding the German front also were attacked, but it was said the results were "generally poor" due to cloud conditions. In all, 1,800 sorties were flown, the communique said.

Submits Names for New Greek Cabinet

CAIRO, April 14 (AP).—Sophocles Venizelos submitted the names of his proposed new Greek Government-in-Cairo tonight to King George II, keeping for himself the vital portfolios of Foreign Affairs, War, Navy, Air and Justice as well as the premiership.

Two ministers were appointed—Lt.-Gen. Tzanacakis, Social Welfare, and Rear Admiral Demestikas, Merchant Marine. Education and Interior. In addition Georgios Mantzavinos, now in London, was named undersecretary of finance.

CUT TRAIN SERVICE

DUBLIN, April 14 (CP).—Drastic reductions in Eire train service due to coal shortages were announced today. Passenger trains, even on main lines, will run only two days a week and freight trains four days, with 11 branch lines suspended.

Agree on Plan To Rule Reich

LONDON, April 14 (AP).—Russia has agreed with Great Britain and the United States on the principle of military government, after the war, for Germany and such satellites as choose to fight to the end, it was reported on high authority tonight.

An Anglo-American-Russian plan for handling occupied Germany is nearing completion, providing for an "Allied military government with teeth in it." It makes General Dwight D. Eisenhower the supreme authority in areas occupied by British and American forces, and calls for Russian military control over areas occupied by the Red Army.

Other details of the programme as described to Wes Gallagher, Associated Press staff writer, by a highly-placed informant, include:

The Allied military organization is to be used nowhere in Europe except in Germany and in satellite countries loyal to Berlin to the end.

The Russians recently complained they had not been taken sufficiently into consideration in early Italian affairs and retaliated by giving the Badoglio Government semi-diplomatic recognition without fully advising the Allies.

ALL THREE POWERS AGREE ON SOLUTION

All three powers have agreed, however, on a mutual settling of the problem of what to do with the enemy. This has been turned over to the European advisory commission to work out a joint plan.

Britain and the United States have agreed to give General Eisenhower authority to deal with all countries entering his sphere of military command, which includes most of Western Europe. The Allied staff hopes to work with the French, Netherlanders and Norwegians on a straight liaison plan, letting each country handle its own affairs subject to the military necessities as seen by the supreme commanders.

As for Germany, there is no question of self-government for her. The Allies are prepared to deal with a completely disorganized and decentralized country. From lessons learned in Italy, Allied authorities have little hope of finding any anti-Nazi key figures capable of assuming leadership.

Turkey Seeking To Compromise

ANKARA, April 14 (AP).—In a press conference the tenor of which was taken to indicate that Turkey will seek to compromise with the Allies on the question of Turkish-German trade, Foreign Minister Numan Menemencioglu declared today: "We will, in the general direction of our foreign policy, aid the Allies to the limit of our material possibilities."

He held the conference shortly after receiving the British and American Ambassadors, who delivered notes based on United States Secretary of State Cordell Hull's request that neutral countries cease trading with Germany.

Asked whether Turkey intended to concert her action with that of other neutrals, he said: "When dealing with the Allies it is not necessary to concert our actions with any other nations.

"You know the sense of our relations with the United Nations. Our policy never has ceased to evolve in the spirit of entente and comprehension with our Allies and their Allies."

He added that the Allied notes would be answered "very soon."

Canada Makes Treaty With China; Will Relinquish Certain Rights

OTTAWA, April 14 (CP).—Canada concluded today a treaty with China formally relinquishing extra-territorial rights and other privileges which, under treaty obligations, Canada together with other nations previously exercised in China.

Announcement of the completion of the treaty was made tonight by Prime Minister Mackenzie King. It provides that not later than six months after the cessation of hostilities the two Governments will enter into "a comprehensive modern treaty of friendship, commerce, navigation and consular rights."

The treaty completed today was signed by Mr. King and by Dr. Liu Shih Shun, Chinese Ambassador to Canada. In its terms it is similar to the British extra-territorial treaty concluded on behalf of the United Kingdom, Northern Ireland and India January 11, 1943, and the United States treaty with China concluded on the same date.

The first formal treaty ever signed by Canada with China, it provides, that all international agreements which authorize any British or Canada authority to exercise jurisdiction in China over Canadian nationals are abrogated.

The Canadian Government agrees to co-operate with the Chinese Government in arrangements, so far as Canadian interests are concerned, for the abandonment by foreign governments of special privileges held by them in Peiping, Shanghai, Amoy, Tientsin and Canton.

The relinquishment of extra-territorial rights does not affect existing real property rights of Canadian nationals. It is agreed that Canadian property in China will be subject to Chinese laws concerning taxation and national defence.

Real property held by Canadians in China may not be alienated to the Government or nations of a third country without the consent of the Chinese Government. If the right to transfer is refused the Chinese Government has agreed to take over the property and pay adequate compensation.

Canadian nationals in China are to be accorded the right to travel, reside and carry on trade in China. Each country is to endavor to accord to nationals of the other treatment not less favorable than that enjoyed by its own nationals in legal proceedings, the administration of justice and the levying of taxes.

Consular officers of each country are to have the right to interview and communicate with their own nationals and are to be informed

H.M.C.S. Algonquin Commissioned

H.M.C.S. Algonquin, one of the fastest and most modern destroyers in the world, has been commissioned by the Royal Canadian Navy with an all-Canadian crew. Lieut.-Cmdr. D. M. Piers, D.S.C., R.C.N., of Halifax, N.S., commanding officer, H.M.C.S. Algonquin (left) chats with Vice-Admiral P. W. Nelles, C.M., R.C.N., senior Canadian flag officer (overseas), shortly after the commissioning of the fleet destroyer. This is the seventh destroyer to be transferred to Canada by Great Britain during the past year. Algonquin is the first ship of her type in the Royal Canadian Navy. (Story on Page 5.)

Signs Aid Pact With Committee of French

OTTAWA, April 14 (CP).—Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced tonight that Canada had signed a mutual aid agreement with the French Committee of National Liberation.

The agreement was signed by Mr. King on behalf of Canada and by G. Bonneau, delegate in Canada of the French Committee of National Liberation, on behalf of the committee.

This is the fifth such agreement signed by Canada this year. Earlier this year agreements were made with the United Kingdom, Russia, Australia and China.

Terms of the agreement with the committee were not disclosed. Mr. King's announcement, however, said the agreement concerned the "principles applying to the provision of Canadian war supplies to the committee by Canada under the mutual aid pact."

Simultaneously with the announcement, the Trade and Commerce Department said in a statement that for the first two months of the current year, total Canadian exports to French possessions for civilian purposes were $6,156,000, compared with $240,000 for the corresponding period last year. The French possessions in the importing countries included Algeria, Corsica, Morocco and Tunisia.

The department explained that the chief reason for the increase was the removal December 4, 1943, of restrictions on Canadian trade with the French zone, formerly imposed under trading with the enemy regulations. It added, however, that although this step removed statutory restrictions on the resumption of private trading, trade was still closely controlled by Government agencies in the areas concerned.

Rehabilitation and Air Plans Vital to Canada

Immediate planning for rehabilitation—because "for some men the war is already over and they need it now" and because war workers need to know what they can expect in the future—and immediate assessment by Canada of her position in postwar aviation are foremost in the thoughts of Hon. George A. Drew, K.C., Premier of Ontario.

PREMIER DREW

Premier Drew, accompanied by Mrs. Drew, arrived at Victoria shortly after midnight following a cross-country plane flight from Toronto. He is here on a holiday, but intends while in Victoria to discuss rehabilitation with heads of the British Columbia Government.

"I have been urging a Dominion-Provincial joint planning board for months," he said, "to bring the various Governments together to co-ordinate plans and joint action. We should be planning now. We already have the problem of rehabilitation.

Death Removes Soviet General

LONDON, April 15 (Saturday) (AP).—The Moscow radio announced today that Gen. Nikolai Vatutin, commander of the First Ugrainian Army, died in Kiev after an operation.

Vatutin, leader of the First Ukrainian Army in many of its most notable exploits, including the liberation of Kiev, had been ill for some time.

It was announced March 3 that he had retired from his command because of illness and was succeeded by Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov.

Vatutin died during last night, said the announcement, which was issued by the Council of People's Commissars for Defence of the U.S.S.R.

A monument will be erected to him in Kiev, the announcement added, praising him as "one of the most talented young army commanders who had developed during the war."

Will Launch Drive On "Dope" Bandits

VANCOUVER, April 14 (CP).—Chief Constable Donald McKay tonight ordered two double shifts per week for detectives in the criminal investigation bureau who will comb all boarding houses and rooming establishments in the city, with suspected dope bandits and addicts the special target.

The chief said the campaign was begun in an attempt to halt a recent wave of drugstore "dope" holdups and burglaries.

The double shifts will continue until the crime wave has been checked.

Two War Plants Are Taken Over in U.S.

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP).—President Roosevelt today ordered the navy and army to take over and operate two war plants, Jenkins Brothers, Inc., of Bridgeport, Conn., and the Ken-Rad Tube and Lamp Corporation, of Owensboro, Ky., on the ground that interruption of work at the plants is threatened.

Both plants have refused to pay wage increases ordered by the War Labor Board.

PIONEER TECHNICIAN DIES

VANCOUVER, April 14 (CP).—Samuel P. Miller, 78, pioneer therapeutic technician, died here today. Mr. Miller helped in the building of the first X-ray machine by the Victor Electric Co., and was instrumental in introducing it to United States and Canadian lay hospitals and medical clinics.

DUBLIN, April 14 (CP-Reuter's).—Air services between Dublin and Liverpool will be suspended from tomorrow owing to restrictions imposed by British authorities, it was announced here tonight.

SHIPYARDS AFIRE

Last of Enemy Forces in Crimea Trapped; 31,000 Prisoners in Six-Day Push

LONDON, April 14 (AP).—The Red Army cornered thousands of shattered Axis troops into the last tenth of the Crimea around shell-pitted Sevastopol today with the capture of Bakhchisarai, only 18 miles northeast of the former Soviet Fleet base, and ran their six-day haul of German and Rumanian prisoners to 31,000, Moscow announced tonight.

In addition, an entire German division of perhaps 15,000 men was destroyed, while the re-emerging Soviet Black Sea Fleet and its Naval Air Arm sank four boats jammed with Axis infantrymen trying to escape by sea, Moscow said.

Overrunning 500 towns and villages, two armies, under Generals Feodor I. Tolbukhin and Andrei I. Yeremenko, effected a junction and closed in swiftly for the final annihilation of German and Rumanian remnants fleeing into Sevastopol, where the Axis suffered 300,000 casualties during the 1941-42 siege of that fortress. Entire Axis battalions were surrendering with their equipment intact, front dispatches said.

Gen. Tolbukhin's Fourth Ukraine Army captured 300 localities, struck 17 miles southwest along the railway from Simferopol to make the seizure of Bakhchisarai, and also cut 25 miles southeast across the coastal mountains and captured Alushta, only 16 miles east of the port of Yalta on the Black Sea coast.

Aside from Sevastopol in the southwestern corner, Yalta is the last major enemy position, and on the seventh day of their lightning offensive the Russians had reconquered approximately nine-tenths of the 10,000-square-mile peninsula, which has many good airfields to accelerate the invasion of Rumania.

12-MILE PUSH DOWN THE COAST

Gen. Tolbukhin's troops also seized Saki, 35 miles north of Sevastopol in a 12-mile push down the coast from Yevpatoriya, captured Thursday, and another column entered Ak-Mechet, on the western tip of the peninsula 40 miles northwest of Yevpatoriya.

Japanese at Vital Roadway

NEW DELHI, April 14 (AP).—Front dispatches said tonight that Japanese troops had reached the Bishenpur-Silchar Trail running southwest and west of the Allied Indian base of Imphal and suffered a dozen casualties in an engagement with Allied troops there.

This route previously had been described as the last land link between the Imphal defenders and the main Allied forces.

At the big Allied base of Kohima north of Imphal, the Japanese withdrew after an initial penetration into the hills west and northwest of the town, the dispatches added.

Earlier, Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten's command announced the Japanese had reached the vicinity of the Bishenpur-Silchar Trail. Bishenpur is on the western edge of the Imphal plain. Silchar is the railhead of a spur of the main line of the Bengal-Assam railway—the supply link of the Allied forces in Northern Burma. It is approximately 70 miles west of Bishenpur.

The Japanese put 30 fighter planes over the Imphal-Ukhrul area Wednesday in their biggest aerial observation show since their appearance over the Chabua-Ledo sector February 27. Spitfires intercepted the Japanese planes and damaged two before the enemy scooted back into the clouds.

On the plain around Imphal itself, today's Allied communique said, there was only patrol activity, and it was said at headquarters the enemy was being held off firmly.

Allied spokesmen previously had said Imphal's land supply routes were subject to attack by the Japanese in the difficult jungle country but the base itself was safe on the wide Imphal plain, with good communication by air.

At latest report the Japanese, whose strength is not accurately known, had not yet launched a major attack on any point around Imphal.

At Kohima, the other big Allied advance base 60 miles to the north, British and Indian counter-attacks against the Japanese invasion forces are "progressing," today's communique said.

Bombers Pound Kurile Islands

PEARL HARBOR, April 14 (AP).—The Spring aerial offensive on the Kurile approaches to Tokio was carried through its fourth straight day with Thursday strikes at Paramushiro, Shasukotan and Matsuwa, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz reported today in a press release.

There were four attacks, making a total of 14 raids on Kurile objectives in four days. Paramushiro was hit twice and other raids were directed at Shasukotan and Matsuwa, the latter within 450 miles of Japan.

Aleutians-based Liberators first went over Paramushiro in a predawn attack, encountering no opposition. Later navy search planes ran into intense anti-aircraft fire over the same base.

The press release also reported that on Thursday navy search planes bombed Ulul, northwest of Truk in the Carolines, and Pakin, west of Ponape.

In other Central Pacific air operations, many Venturas raided Kusaie, also in the Carolines, hitting warehouses, piers and gun positions.

Earlier in the day, announcement was made that Seventh Army Air Force Liberators gave Truk one of its heaviest raids of the war Wednesday night. They plastered five islands with explosives, encountering no air interception and only meagre ground fire in the 20th attack of softening-up campaign.

Yarrows' Foremen to Receive Honor From Netherlands Workers Committee

Thomas Hadfield, 354 Lampson Street, machinist foreman in charge of outfitting at Yarrows Ltd., and Malcolm McDuff, 469 Grafton Street, plate shop foreman, will receive "Silver Fleet" awards for war work, it was announced in Toronto yesterday.

The awards, arranged by a committee on behalf of workers in The Netherlands, will be made on the basis of nominations by fellow-workers, labor management committees, unions and plant managements. Fourteen other Canadians in war plants and transportation services are similarly honored.

Mr. Hadfield, member of Esquimalt Council, came to Victoria in 1912, and has been with Yarrows since 1916. He is now in charge of installation of propelling and auxiliary machinery in escort vessels being built for the Royal Canadian Navy, and is also responsible for engineering work in ship repairs.

In nominating him for the award, the company mentioned the expansion of his crew of mechanics from 25 to more than 300, and his direction of important repair jobs.

Mr. McDuff came to Canada in 1909, and to Victoria in 1916. Personnel of his shop has increased from 10 to 50. The company mentioned his part in making a freight ferry for the C.P.R., and his progressive willingness to adopt new mechanical methods.

Mr. Hadfield was born at Stoke-on-Trent, and was apprenticed to the firm of Dean & Lowe, and Mr. McDuff was born at Greenock, Scotland, and served with the Scott Engineering Company.

The award is in the form of a miniature hand-made pewter submarine, a model of one that escaped to England from the Nazis. Presentations will be made early next month.

Ickes Urges Unique Plan

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14 (AP).—Ownership and control of Government-owned war plants by the men and women who served in the United States armed forces was suggested today by Harold L. Ickes, Secretary of the Interior, as a means of providing maximum production and employment in the postwar period.

"If these plants are merely turned over to be quietly throttled in the interest of an economy of scarcity—scarce production, scarce opportunity and few jobs—we can confidently look forward to postwar chaos," Mr. Ickes said in a speech for delivery to the San Francisco Commonwealth Club.

"On the other hand, continued Government ownership and operation would be a negative answer.

"We must make sure that the ownership and control of these plants came to rest in the hands of those who are interested in their continued, full operation and have hopes of a rejuvenated and even more vigorous America."

200,000 Farmers to Get Crop Payments

OTTAWA, April 14 (CP).—Trade Minister Mackinnon announced early tonight payment of participation certificates for the 1940, 1941 and 1942 wheat crops in which approximately $59,000,000 will be distributed to about 200,000 prairie farmers.

The actual payments will be 6½ cents per bushel for 1940 crop wheat, 14½ cents for 1941 and 11½ cents for 1942.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., April 14 (CP).—Mrs. Bessie Harris, merchant, who died here January 16, left an estate with a gross value of $99,710.

Bogadjim Falls To Australians

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, April 15 (Saturday) (AP).—Australian troops captured Bogadjim Thursday and are in contact with enemy patrols on the road to the Japanese supply base at Madang, 18 miles to the north.

The Australians entered Bogadjim without resistance and captured some abandoned equipment, today's Allied communique said.

Advanced units of the American 32nd Division, which had come up the New Guinea coast while the Australians advanced from inland, were reported several days ago to have made a junction with the Aussies, but there was no report the Americans had entered Bogadjim with their Allies.

The American division landed at Saidor to the southeast last January 2. Meanwhile, the Australians were pushing up the Huon Peninsula coast and advancing northward inland in a two-prong movement from Lae, which the Allies captured last mid-September.

Australian coastal units joined with the Americans south of Saidor early last February, ending the Huon Peninsula campaign.

The inland Aussie force continued its progress up Ramu Valley to the junction south of Bogadjim with the American units which had come up from Saidor.

Real Estate Men Hear About Headaches of House Building

Despite rigid building restrictions, private dwellings constructed in the province last year were valued at $4,117,937, R. J. Lecky told members of the Real Estate Board in Spencer's dining-room yesterday. Mr. Lecky is secretary of the Building and Construction Industries Exchange of British Columbia, with headquarters at Vancouver, and his topic was "Headaches of House Building."

"I would like to say," Mr. Lecky continued, "a little about construction generally. Building in 1943 was considerably less than that of the previous year, but 1942 was so extreme that 1943 was also considered very good.

"We are holding the bag of construction here in British Columbia more than anywhere else in Canada. Gross construction permits issued across Canada in 1943 totaled $80,190,000, while residential figures alone in British Columbia were well over $4,000,000. This is a drop from the 1942 figures, but it is still a lot of houses."

Explaining the drop, Mr. Lecky stated that from January 4 to May 14, last year, no permits were issued at all because of the lumber shortage arising from National Defence needs. Finally, after great pressure on the lumber controller, 1,000,000 feet of timber was released, which meant that about 100 houses could be built. Mr. Lecky asserted that this release of timber was spread about the province with great care.

"Worst restriction," the speaker said, "was in October, 1942, when the Dominion Government control order came into effect, which put a ceiling of $500 on any one dwelling. This situation was somewhat relieved in May, 1943, when a few permits were issued."

APARTMENT BUILDING RESTRICTIONS LIFTED

"In July, 1943, we changed our policy," he continued, "from a cost basis to a square foot basis, 900 square feet being the limit of a dwelling. This has been raised to 1,300 square feet. Similarly the restrictions in regard to apartment buildings have been altered so that now, while there is a 1,300 square foot limit per suite, there is no limit to the number of suites. Since this increased space allotment, our office in Vancouver has been daily flooded with applications, but the situation is a healthy one.

EASE IN RESTRICTIONS CREATES IMPETUS

"In the last 18 months, 5,573 residential permits have been applied for at Ottawa through our Vancouver office, with 4,452 already granted. In the last five weeks alone," Mr. Lecky added, "we have had 1,100 applications for new houses in British Columbia." In emphasizing the number of new applications, he predicted that the present housing shortage would gradually work out, especially in regard to the individual house owner.

Mr. Lecky stressed the fact that the Vancouver office did not interfere with local by-laws, but tried to co-operate in every way with municipal bodies.

"I am finding," Mr. Lecky warned, "enormously high prices are asked for dwellings in Vancouver, and you may have the same situation here. Some of these houses are old, and some are new. I frankly state I am afraid of the situation. Houses worth $3,000 originally are sold and re-sold until they are bought by the final purchasers for $5,000 and $6,000. We are also finding contractors sending in estimates deliberately advanced. I suggest, gentlemen, that you watch and guard against this inflation of values," he asserted.

President R. H. Shanks thanked the speaker. Silent tribute was paid in memory of the late James Fletcher.

Guest introduced was L. A. Diether, representative of Pre-fabricated Buildings, Ltd.

W. A. Gleason, Former Alderman Here, Dies

W. A. Gleason, Victoria alderman before the last war, who was superintendent of various construction jobs in the United States and Japan before retiring here, died yesterday at his home, 118 Beechwood Avenue. Funeral arrangements in charge of McCall Brothers, are pending.

Mr. Gleason, who is survived by his widow, Mary, was on the city council here in 1907 and 1908 and in 1911-1913, and was an unsuccessful candidate for mayor in 1914. At that time he was a contractor.

During the Great War he was in war work in England, then went to the United States, and was with the H. K. Ferguson Construction Company. At Yokohama, he superintended construction of a Ford Motor Company plant.

Nieces are Miss Pearl Kinnaird, Royal Oak, and Mrs. I. Derman, Walter Avenue.

Suggest Citizens Be Asked to Co-operate

Public works committee will recommend to the City Council that the co-operation of citizens be sought in clearing up broken glass in front of their premises, following their meeting yesterday at the City Hall.

The committee was dealing with a request from the health department that some scheme be instituted whereby the streets and sidewalks in the business area, at least, could be kept as clear as possible of broken glass and other dangerous or offensive material.

At the same time the works group looked with disfavor on a suggestion from the health department that this work be accomplished by manual labor, using elderly men with push-carts and brooms. It was felt that if the citizens adopted the old adage: "If every person kept his doorstep clean we would have a clean city," the situation would be aided considerably.

A letter from E. L. Tait, dealing with the disposal of garbage, was tabled until the next meeting, at which G. W. Allison, garbage superintendent, will be present. G. M. Irwin, city engineer, was requested to bring in a report dealing with the proposal.

Committee approved a recommendation from the engineer for extending the Grant Street sewer between Stanley Avenue and Fernwood Road for a distance of 285 feet. Cost of the work was set at $607.

The engineer reported that 250 red reflectors had been placed on stop signs.

Retain Old Books For Canning Sugar

The public is warned to retain Ration Book No. 3 for the preserving sugar coupons contained, and in the event that meat might be required later.

"Some people have been destroying their old books," commented A. B. Food, local ration officer yesterday, "overlooking the fact that canning sugar coupons, letter 'F' are contained in Book No. 3."

Coupons "F" 1 to 5 are good for one pound of sugar each and are valid on and after May 25; coupons "F" 6 to 10 have the same value and become valid on July 6. These coupons are all contained in Ration Book No. 3.

If meat rationing is resumed, coupons 41 to 46 in the old book will be required, and there is no assurance that meat rationing will not be resumed at a later date.

Premier Drew

has made considerable progress along some lines, he said.

"I am anxious to discuss with your Premier what you have done here."

Premier Drew stated the promised Dominion-Provincial conference was eagerly awaited. Some of the Provincial Governments were going ahead as far as they could with their own plans, but there was a lot with which they could not deal until they knew what the Dominion planned. One of the important questions was conversion of war plants to peacetime production. This entailed knowledge of when war production was likely to stop, and whether some plants would continue in operation or not.

"Plans must be made immediately so that war workers will be able to gain some idea of what their future may be," Premier Drew said.

NEED REALITY IN APPROACHING AIR PROBLEM

He emphasized also that "Canada's great need in the aviation field is to approach the problem of post-war aviation in terms of reality, because geography alone doesn't make a nation a great air power.'

Canada has a tremendous opportunity, not because of her geography, to help build an Empire air partnership based on her extraordinary training facilities, Premier Drew stated, and through taking advantage of the superiority of British aircraft design.

He hinted that Britain had new planes of which much would be heard in the near future.

Premier Drew had his "own guess" as to when the next Federal election would be held, but would not comment on it. He also suggested the forthcoming Empire conference might be held sooner than generally anticipated.

He was greeted on arrival by Toronto friends.

From Europe

a co-ordinated strategy between them has become necessary.

A similar Soviet mission has already reached Marshal Tito's headquarters in Yugoslavia.

Budapest, Bucharest and Sofia have suffered heavily from the recent Allied bombing, while the loss of life in the Rumanian and Hungarian capitals has been serious.

The oil refineries at Ploesti have been temporarily crippled.

Editorially, The Times says talks in London and Washington on future oil supplies, particularly those of Saudi Arabia, are to be welcomed, since the question is becoming controversial.

clarify misunderstandings, especially that caused in London by Colonel Knox's suggestion that United States oil companies in Saudi Arabia had to seek the Washington Government's aid because they feared the British might take over their concessions.

He also said Saudi Arabia was calling on Britain for help and that the British had advanced money to the Saudi Arabian Government so that United States companies were alarmed over the situation.

The United States oil project, and especially the $200,000,000 pipeline plan to carry oil from the Persian Gulf to the Mediterranean, says The Times, is still only in a tentative stage.

Such a pipeline would require consent from the Governments concerned, and it is not yet clear whether their consent has been sought, much less secured.

In the meantime no positive evidence has been offered of British hostility to this or any other American plan.

The British Government has entered into no hidden financial arrangements with Saudi Arabia, nor can there be any reason why the United States enterprise in this area should be met in a spirit of narrow competition, still less by any claim to monopoly.

It must now be left to the London and Washington talks to dispose of whatever misgivings are created by Colonel Knox's statement.

The clause in the Atlantic Charter pledging equal access to the world's raw materials offers one sure guide for the talks and the wider discussions to follow. It points to the ultimate interest of all countries involved.

Toughen Policy

LONDON, April 14 (CP)—Britain and the United States toughened their policy toward neutrals yesterday by reducing steamship service to Eire, protesting against increased Turkish shipments of chrome to Germany and condemning the Spanish seizure of Allied oil stocks in Spanish Morocco.

The Ministry of War Transport announced steamship service from Britain to Eire would be cut after April 24. This followed suspension of telephone service and virtual prohibition of travel permits.

Britain and the United States were both said by an authoritative informant to have made strong representations to Spain about oil and to Turkey about chrome.

It was probable that similar notes would be dispatched dealing with Spanish and Portuguese shipments of wolfram and Swedish exports of ball bearings to Germany.

Three-Dimensional Movies After War?

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP)—Will Hays said tonight on the 50th anniversary of the first motion picture show that three-dimensional movies in new-type theatres are a postwar likelihood.

The president of the Motion Picture Producers And Distributors of America unfolded his vision of the future in an address before directors of the organization.

Hays said the motion picture industry stood as a memorial to inventors Thomas A. Edison and George Eastman.

The first commercial showing of motion pictures took place in New York April 14, 1894, he said, with patrons peeping into ten of Edison's kinetoscope machines to see figures moving on Eastman's film.

Sitka Trollers to Tie Up Their Boats

SITKA, Alaska, April 14 (AP)—More than 40 Sitka salmon trollers voted unanimously to tie up their boats pending an answer from the Office of Price Administration on requested price increase. The move coincides with similar action taken at Juneau.

Spokesmen said the tie-up does not constitute a strike but is designed merely to force some kind of answer from the O.P.A.

Concert at Colwood

Bonnie Ward's troupe gave a successful concert at the Colwood army barracks Wednesday night, when a large audience enjoyed songs and acrobatics, a magician and skilled tap dancers.

Marie Vowles, violinist, contributed several numbers; Doreen Bull, acrobatic dancing; Lois Moore, a personality act and songs; Ernie Crockford, tricks in magic; Elaine Bassanta, soprano solos; Bonnie Ward, contralto numbers. The Borgen sisters, Anne and Lillian, played guitars and sang harmony, and "Thelma," clever young dancer from Eileen's School of Dancing, performed taps and Russian numbers.

Following the concert the artists were entertained in the sergeants' mess and several impromptu numbers were given.

Last night Miss Bonnie Ward was guest singer at the R.A.F. station at Patricia Bay.

Davey at Kamloops

KAMLOOPS, B.C., April 14 (CP)—H. W. Davey, of Victoria, counsel for the Royal Commission inquiring into forestry matters, spent Thursday and today in Kamloops in a preliminary survey to ascertain if it would be worth while for the commissioner to come to the Interior.

Interior stockmen, delegates from the Nicola Stock Breeders' Association, the Ashcroft Ranchers' Association and the Cariboo Stockmen's Association outlined to Mr. Davey their industry's interest in forest matters. Grazing comes under the forest branch.

Representatives of the local lumbering industry of Kamloops Board of Trade and City Council conferred with Mr. Davey.

Mr. Davey is now doing similar

John Gaydon R.C.A.F., suffering a broken right upper arm, which he said resulted from a fall in the street, was brought to the city police station last night by several other airmen, and taken to St. Joseph's Hospital.

Royal Navy Commander Tells Canadian Club About U-Boats

Nazi wolf packs almost won the battle of the Atlantic in 1942; it was "touch and go," but British technical experts and British seamen turned the tide, and now "Jerry" had pulled his submarines home for improvements in construction and tactics before launching them on a new campaign of destruction, Cmdr. R. H. Stokes-Rees, R.N., told the Canadian Club at yesterday's luncheon at the Empress Hotel.

"He's got about 500 somewhere, probably under concrete, and I'm afraid we are going to hear from them again, though they may not come to these shores," he warned, explaining that then it would be up to United Nations' technical men to go them one better.

Speaking with lucidity and humor, the Commander gave a rapid description of submarine life, explaining technical points and illustrating from a large chart which showed a cross-section and a side view of a submarine. Stories of war games and incidents in the deadlier days of real warfare enlivened the talk.

Commander Stokes-Rees, who is serving with the Admiralty Technical Mission in Canada, has specialized in submarines. He also supervised the building of the first of a new class of modern submarines when rearmament started, and during the present war has served as superintendent of gun design for the three forces.

In answer to a question posed by C. D. Orchard, chief forester, the Commander said he was working on an improved type of gun for submarines. At present the guns are exposed to salt water but oxidization was slight under water, and the guns were given a good "wipe-over" with grease when the submarine surfaced to charge its batteries at night to offset any detrimental action.

GRAND FUN MANNING GUNS

"It was grand fun manning the guns, rushing into the sea water that flowed over the top of the submarine which was surfacing, he said, "grand fun in China or Mediterranean waters, but rather cold in the Arctic."

Most important part of the submarine, he said, was the pressure area, made round for strength. "All this (including the conning tower) can be washed off without being lethal," he stated, recalling an amazing incident which he had witnessed when a cadet on a cruiser. The destroyers sped through their ranks, making straight for the undersea craft, and one passed right over an unwary submarine. Fortunately the coxswain noticed it and swerved twice, clearing the propellers. It took off the whole outer section and the submarine captain recovered in time to get away. "I imagine he made port," the Commander said.

If forced to remain under water they can "stick it" for two days, with the main batteries and the air competing as to which would run out first.

A crash dive can be accomplished in a very few seconds. With the words, "Dive, dive, dive" cried by the lookout everyone jumps to his post. In action the submarine is "trimmed right down" ready for instant diving. That is, the vents are left only one-third filled with air.

HUMOR OFTEN SAVES LIVES

Humor often saved men's lives, the Commander said, as once when a submarine was in a very bad way with depth charges all around; an able seaman presented the captain with an urgent note, which read, "Able Seaman Jones requesting to revert to general service immediately."

Everyone laughed and men snapped into action and got out of it.

"As long as we have men of this calibre, men who have confidence in their leaders and are with you, we will have a good undersea fleet," Commander Stokes-Rees concluded.

His address was by way of a preliminary to a talk which will be given later by a young submarine hero, Lieut. Jewel, R.N., M.B.E., who took General Clark, U.S.A., to Morocco and who effected the rescue of General Henri Giraud from France.

Commissioner T. W. S. Parsons, who presided in the absence of Rev. George Biddle, made the introduction, emphasizing that all the traditions of Victoria and Esquimalt were of the Navy. Cmdr. A. R. E. Coleman, Captain "D" at Esquimalt, moved the vote of thanks. Representatives of various branches of the Navy were also guests at the luncheon.

The Bermuda islands are practically all coral.

ADDRESSES ON THE MOVE . . .

MAIL TO REINFORCEMENT UNITS A CHALLENGE TO US ALL . . .

THIS is a war of movement. Never before have troops been moved such incredible distances, in so many theatres of war, so quickly. Night and day, thousands of men are in motion, by sea transport, motor truck and air . . . edging into enemy territory, shifting to keep the element of surprise. Did you ever stop to think what it means, under these trying conditions, to find your friend or relative, and put your letter into his hands?

Yet in spite of the tremendous task involved, tracing men who are moving from reinforcement units in England to group depots in Italy . . . or from one location to another . . . or through hospitalization or while on leave . . . in the face of every sort of war hazard . . . 31,500,000 letters in addition to parcels and other items, reached our men in 1943.

Wounded in Italy

SGT. A. F. COATES

Who has been wounded while serving in Italy with the R.C.A., according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Coates, 1046 Sutlej Street. Born and educated in Victoria, he has been overseas four years and has a wife and son, Michael, in England. He was a well-known soccer player here. Two brothers in uniform are Harry in the R.C.O.C., and Norman in the R.C.A.F. A third, Daryl, was lost at sea last September.

Air Bomber Graduate

SGT. RICHARD C. PRIMEAU

Son of A. N. Primeau, Centre Road, Sidney, who recently received his air-bomber's badge at No. 2 Air Observer School, Edmonton.

On Two Months' Leave

Petty Officer W. A. (Billy) Mair, R.C.N.R., on leave after an attack of pneumonia with complications.

P.O. W. A. MAIR

expects to be staying until June 10 with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Mair, 119 St. Lawrence Street. He arrived home on Thursday.

A coxswain with combined operations, he has been overseas two years and took part in the landings in North Africa, Sicily and Italy.

Victoria seems changed after his long absence, and he complains of finding few persons that he used to know. He did not like England much when there, but now has a desire to get back to that country.

Aged 29, he went to Victoria schools and starred at lacrosse and football.

A brother, Jim, was killed in action with the R.C.A.F. in 1942. Another brother, Bob, is to receive his pilot's wings at Macleod, Alta., on April 20 and will be here on leave soon afterwards.

Nanaimo Soldier Dies

Pte. Francis Tommy, R.C.A.M.C., whose brother, Anderson Tommy, is given as living at Nanaimo, has died of wounds in Italy, according to a Canadian Army casualty list.

Capt. Maze Home

CAPT. R. E. MAZE

Who is visiting his wife and son in Victoria, after service in Sicily and Italy, for which he was recently mentioned in dispatches. Capt. Maze was called out for active service at the start of the war, and entered the R.C.A.S.C. as second lieutenant.

Winnipeg Feels Labor Shortage

WINNIPEG, April 14 (CP).—The Winnipeg office of the Unemployment Insurance Commission has a problem—jobs for thousands of fit men but few to fill them.

At the first of the month there were 3,195 vacancies, the office filled 1,144, and there are still about three times as many jobs available as there are persons to fill them.

They remain unfilled largely because of the physical unfitness of workers seeking employment, said H. R. Richardson, acting assistant manager of the commission's office.

Workers are needed for packing plants, railway maintenance, for gold mines and other industries where rugged-type workmen are required.

Many men are looking for work but they do not measure up to physical standards.

"The Shining Future" At Local Theatres

Top-notch entertainment has been made by a galaxy of Hollywood stars especially for Canada's Sixth Victory Loan. The combined salaries of the cast in the Warner Brothers' production, "The Shining Future," would be in the neighborhood of $2,000,000, yet all the stars gladly gave their services free to aid in Canada's Victory Loan campaign.

The picture, as the title implies, gives us a glimpse into the future, and shows us some startling things in the year 1960. We discover a family in their very modern living-room, which is equipped with television, fluorescent fireplace, heating, electric door-viewing screen, and through the window we see the family helicopter.

The stellar cast includes Herbert Marshall, Deanna Durbin, Benny Goodman and his orchestra, Harry James, Cary Grant, Olive Blakeney, Jack Carson, Bing Crosby, Jimmie Lydon, Irene Manning, Dennis Morgan, Harold (Gildersleeve) Peary, Charles Ruggles and Frank Sinatra.

"The Shining Future" may be currently seen at local theatres, including the Capitol, Dominion, Atlas, Plaza and Oak Bay.

City Police Court

Pte. A. Ethier, driver of an army truck, and Mrs. M. Lieper, taxi driver, both of whom were involved in a collision at Johnson and Government Streets in the early morning hours of March 25, appeared in city police court yesterday charged with dangerous driving.

Evidence in the Ethier case was completed, and the court reserved its decision until next Thursday, while Mrs. Lieper was remanded for one week for hearing.

Constable Brooke Douglass told the court that he witnessed the accident in which damage to the taxi amounted to $475. The truck, although it came to rest on its side, was only slightly damaged.

Rendered unconscious by the crash, Mrs. Lieper was in hospital for two weks. The driver of the army truck was not injured.

Found guilty of exceeding the speed limit, a motorist said: "I'll take three days," when told by the court that the penalty was a fine of $15 or in default three days.

Constables Angus Munroe and Stanley Cornish testified that they paced the car along Douglas Street, between Bay Street and Hillside Avenue, at 45 miles per hour.

Six motorists paid parking fines of $15, and one motorist was fined $10 for exceeding the speed limit on the Johnson Street bridge.

Two persons, an R.C.A.F. officer and a civilian, were each fined $25 on intoxication charges.

Apprehended in Store

Apprehended by Constable Denis Calvert at 4 o'clock Friday morning in the Central Furniture Exchange, 1422 Blanshard Street, Michael O'Connell was taken to police headquarters, where it was found he had a bad cut on his right thigh. Taken to the Royal Jubilee Hospital by police, O'Connell was attended by Dr. J. W. Lennox. He is being detained there.

The War Today

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
A.P. War Analyst

Both extremities of the Japanese Pacific outpost line, New Guinea in the southwest and the Kuriles in the northeast, have come in for intensified air attack recently to stir expectation new Allied moves are impending.

These attacks, particularly in the north where the bombers come closer and closer to Tokio itself with every stroke, must also be sharpening Japanese apprehension.

Yet it is southward, on New Guinea, that the greater threat to the whole Japanese conquest design may be developing.

The northwestern tip of New Guinea, only 600 miles from the southeastern tip of Mindanao in the Philippines, may not be the land bridge by which MacArthur expects one day to lead an army back into the Philippines; but it has possibilities.

There are no official figures on the strength of ground forces available now to MacArthur. Considerable nhmbers of troops could be quickly concentrated somewhere when the time is ripe for that return to the Philippines to which McArthur pledged himself when he left Corregidor.

That time still may be relatively remote, but certainly not as remote as it seemed only months ago. The stepped-up campaign to clear all New Guinea of enemy footholds hints at stage setting for the campaign to retake the Philippines.

EXPELLED FROM PARTY

MELBOURNE, April 14 (CP).—Federal members of the United Australia Party decided today to expel William M. Hughes, deputy leader and former Premier, as a result of his decision to rejoin the advisory war council in defiance of a party decision to withdraw from it.

B.C. Man Wins D.F.C. Award

OTTAWA, April 14 (CP).—Award of the Distinguished Service Order to two top-ranking R.C.A.F. fighter pilots, Wing Commanders R. W. (Buck) McNair, of North Battleford, Sask., and Hugh Godefroy, of Toronto, both of whom already have won multiple recognition, has been announced by the R.C.A.F. with a series of lesser decorations.

McNair already has won the D.F.C. thrice while Godefroy has won it twice. McNair becomes the most decorated flyer who has spent his entire operational career in the R.C.A.F. and is topped only by Flt. Lt. George Beurling, of Verdun, Que., who won most of his decorations while a member of the R.A.F.

Also announced was the award of D.F.C.'s to F.O. V. J. Gorrill, of Creston, B.C., and F.O. R. H. Watt, of Winnipeg.

McNair, who for the past few months has led a fighter wing, has bagged 16 Nazi planes himself, while his wing has brought down 13 since he took over. McNair won his first decoration after shooting down five planes over Malta. After a six months' leave in Canada, he returned overseas and, operating out of England, quickly shot to the top. He was awarded the first bar to his D.F.C. after he had boosted his score to 15 victories, and his second bar shortly after he took command of his fighter wing.

Godefroy also leads a fighter wing, which has shot down 28 enemy planes while he has been in command, one of which he bagged himself.

Seagull Pays Dinner Visit

There are seagulls and seagulls. Mostly they look alike. They all have yellow beaks, snowy necks, grey wings and a stately carriage.

This one was just like any other seagull, except that his neck was more finely arched and he had a wise, proud look about him. He sat on a windowsill.

He was interested in property, else why did he attend the Real Estate Board meeting at Spencer's dining-room. Perhaps he was tired of his nest and would like a new one with a southern exposure. Or possibly he was lonely and would like to apply for a permit to have his dwelling altered to a duplex home.

The gull may have felt the rationing too. He might have felt a four-gull nest could appropriate more tasty items than a two-gull nest.

But to get back to the luncheon.

The window was flung wide open, allowing a patch of clear blue sky and breath of air to enter. Luncheon guests were suddenly disturbed by a rushing sound and a beating of wings. The gull poised delicately on the sill and looked the chairman squarely in the eye.

Further attempts at conversation were difficult. One can hardly turn one's back on a visitor, and the gull was a visitor and a presence. The atmosphere was uncomfortable.

No one had the courage to lift his spoon to the soup until the position of the gull was defined. Finally one man arose and put his untouched bun on the sill. The gull closed one eye in a sign of acceptance and solemnly swallowed it. He waited a moment like a guest who knows it is rude to eat and run, turned around a few times, nodded his head to the chairman, and rose in a slow graceful arc to soar out once more into the clear blue sky.

The luncheon guests returned to their soup and the price of lumber, while the gull rose high in the sky.

Appeal Court

Victoria Sittings

The Earl Kitchener Stewart appeal against his conviction and sentence of 30 days and a $50 fine for failing to report for military training under the National Mobilization Act was completed at noon yesterday. The court reserved decision and adjourned until Monday.

The case attracted considerable interest amongst Stewart's followers on the Mainland. A large number were present in the court during the whole of the lengthy proceedings.

Mr. Remnant for the Crown, argued that Stewart was not a minister of the gospel as such term was understood and accepted, in that he had had no formal preparation and education befitting a minister of the gospel, but was in fact simply an agent appointed by the Watch Tower and Tract Association.

Cattle Awards Made

At a recent meeting of the Saanich Jersey Club, roll of honor certificates which had been received from the Canadian Jersey Cattle Club, were presented to E. W. Burkinshaw for outstanding achievements of his Jersey cattle.

Two daughters of the bull, La France's Prince, owned by Mr. Burkinshaw, received honors for the highest production in Canada in their respective classes for the year 1943 on twice-a-day milking. Rosemont La France Sultana was the highest for the year for both milk and fat with 10,267 pounds of milk and 497 pounds of butterfat in 305 days, as a senior two-year-old. Rosemont La France Countess was the highest for milk production as a junior two-year-old with a record of 9,762 pounds of milk and 450 pounds of fat in 305 days.

The sire, La France Prince, at the same time qualified for a silver medal certificate. He is well known as the son of the Canadian record cow, La France's Princess, formerly owned by Dr. M. L. Olsen, Duncan. This cow still holds three Canadian records, the mature 305-day class for both milk and fat with 17,012 pounds of milk and 898 pounds of fat, and the senior yearling 305-day class on twice-a-day milking with 10,778 pounds of milk and 575 pounds of fat. Those records were made in the years 1928 and 1931.

The Coming Loan

There are a number of reasons why the Sixth Victory Loan, Canada's eighth appeal to her citizens in this war, will be a little different from each of its predecessors. The need is as great. The time is more serious. We are committed beyond revocation to do our best. For many, this is the only way they can fight, while issues of world significance are being worked out quite literally for the next 1,000 years. We are at the steep of the hill. He who helps now will have earned the view from the top.

Before the exhortation commences, before the talk of quotas starts, before many earnest gentlemen appeal to us with fervor and somewhat redundantly to believe that the battle is not won yet—let us examine the situation quietly for ourselves. What can be set down to common knowledge? We are at war. We are paying half our way in the war, and borrowing the other half. We have to borrow from ourselves. To stop now would be to throw up our hands and be licked as a nation, before the toughest battles start. That would be welching, to put it straight.

There is another perspective. No one can avoid some thought of the days that will follow war, the first trial days of peace. We shall want money then: to continue living, to resume our lives where the Great Interruption halted them five years ago, to replace that which has gone, to build for the needs of tomorrow, and not a few tomorrows beyond that again. Who, other than ourselves, is likely to find that money for us? Echo gives the truest answer—who?

Exhortations may be all right, quotas may be deemed necessary, earnest and hard-working gentlemen must, no doubt, bring to us that appeal—but the facts are plain enough. The people of Canada know them. We must have that money. We must lend it to ourselves—$1,200,000,000 of it. Mr. Ilsley's two budget horses—taxation and borrowing—must both pull on their traces, equally. Taxation cannot carry more. Borrowing must share the load, and that for us means lending—to ourselves. We can save and lend, work and fight, climb our hill and help others up it, too, by betting on Canada, to win. The talking is window-dressing. The issue, and it is a real one, is up to us. Are we ready to match our sons in the fight?

Life Savings

This is apparently the week in which the C.C.F. is "on" again with its plank to take over the life insurance companies in Canada. Mr. M. J. Coldwell, speaking at Biggar, Saskatchewan, enunciated four "principal reasons" why in his view this should be done. They were cited as follows:

"The present concentration of economic power in the hands of the few directors and officials who control the insurance companies and their investments, and who, in some instances, are directors of all kinds of corporations, including the liquor industry, in which they have invested their policy holders' savings.

"The high cost, inefficiency and wastefulness of life insurance as it is now organized.

"The exploitation of the majority of the employees of these companies.

"The right of the Canadian people to and their need for a proper system of national investment control over all social security legislation and low-cost voluntary insurance facilities."

The national leader of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation might as well leave the "voluntary" out of the fourth "principal reason." Not even he will contend that the state can take over the life savings of the people and have anything "voluntary" about it. But, waiving that objection, how do these "principal reasons" support the C.C.F. claim that insurance should be socialized?

Life insurance companies are subject to the corporation laws of Canada. They are supervised and inspected at every turn. Their directors' meetings are like the directors' meetings of other companies, and to be a director of a corporation is not as yet a crime in Canada. Someone must control not only the investments of a company, but also all of its business, else the corporation would not be in business for long. If governments had consistently made an overwhelming success of nourishing the people's savings, Mr. Coldwell might be on firmer ground. As it is, he is not.

The second "principal reason" is, of course, an assertion, unsupported by any argument that Mr. Coldwell has produced. It will be for the C.C.F. to show that national socialism could do it better and how.

The third "principal reason" is simply nonsense. No man in Canada has been obliged to work for an insurance company. No man has been muzzled when he did work for one. No man has been obliged to remain in the employ of any company if he felt "exploited." That is part of the parrot-like jargon of socialism, not only in this country but everywhere.

The fourth "principal reason" would seem to require a little elucidation. It is possible that Mr. Coldwell here was not reported verbatim, or that if he were, he omitted some of his thoughts on the subject. What, precisely, is meant by those particular 29 words? On their face they do not convey anything.

Meanwhile, people in Canada who have put their savings into life insurance are apt to require a good deal more convincing before they would vote to place those savings at the disposal of socialism, national or otherwise. If the C.C.F. could point to reputable companies that have gone bankrupt, if it could prove waste, inefficiency and so on, there might be some meaning to Mr. Coldwell's utterances. As it is, most people carry life insurance because they believe in it and are satisfied with the bargain they have made. So far the only ultimate assurance that has ever come from theoretical government has been taxation, and there is no guesswork about that.

Doing Jury Duty?

The capstone of civil liberty is the freedom of the subject. It was a long, long march for mankind before arrest without warrant and imprisonment without trial or cause were relegated to untutored lands. As a senior jurist remarked in a British Columbia court this week, that freedom is an important one. It rests on the ideal that all men shall be equal before the law, entitled to judgment at the hands of their peers. Today in British lands a jury tries, while a judge pronounces what is to follow its given verdict. Before the law that jury is neither the inalienable friend of a defendant, nor his vindictive oppressor. It is an impartial referee with no axe to grind.

Jury duty—no matter how personally inconvenient it may be and quite often is—is one of the serious obligations of citizenship. A jury can send a man to his death, degrade his name for a century, or right the greatest wrong that can be done to him in this the vale of tears. Long experience with courts and causes has shown that juries have about them Solomon-like qualities that do not often reside in a single individual. The bias of one person is cancelled by the tolerance of another. That intangible thing, justice, finds its mean in a system that, whatever its minor imperfections, works and works well.

One has only to imagine a return to the days of the Inquisition, lettres de cachet or a Star Chamber, to see what a lasting protection it is to a subject to plead his cause before a body of his peers in the open light of day. The jury, after all, is the public, and the public in one form or another is present at every trial. Bad as the world has been, mistaken as it quite often is, who can truly measure the inestimable service rendered to civilization by the "twelve good men and true?" They guard a vital human right.

Air Cadet League

Three years ago the Air Training Corps was formed in Great Britain with the express object of voluntarily enlisting boys of school ages, giving them sufficient advanced education to absorb flight training readily, and backing up what The Few had achieved in the decisive Battle of Britain. Within a few months the corps was 120,000 strong, and by the end of the first year it had 200,000 air cadets enrolled. The sequel is as interesting—thousands of those young men have become flyers, and hundreds are taking part in the great air offensive against Germany, roaring now by night and day.

Here in Canada, the Air Cadet League was patterned along similar lines. It has been a distinctive success. Thousands of Canadian youths of school age have taken the training, fitting themselves for air crew berths when they attain the age of 18 years. Many of these boys have become flyers, and considerable numbers of them are now on active service. To perpetuate this training, and to see that youth in the future will have an equal opportunity in civilian life, the Air Cadet League of Canada, like the Air Training Corps in Great Britain, is to be carried forward into the peace.

With that in view, voluntary subscription of funds is being sought throughout Canada to ensure the plan will go forward uninterrupted in the next five years. The sum of $250,000 is aimed at across the Dominion, of which British Columbia citizens have been asked to find $50,000. Victoria has made a good start on its share, but there is still room for considerably more help. Full information can be obtained from officials of the Greater Victoria Wing, Air Cadet League.

Seen in Passing

Words, like figures, can be made to prove anything, but conviction remains the thing that makes men fight for a principle or die for a cause. No one has ever yet convinced a man by hammering him on the head.

From—The Cloud

I bring fresh showers for the thirsting flowers,
From the seas and the streams;
I bear light shade for the leaves when laid
In their noonday dreams.
From my wings are shaken the dews that waken
The sweet buds every one,
When rocked to rest on their mother's breast,
As she dances about the sun.
I wield the flail of the lashing hail,
And whiten the green plains under,
And then again I dissolve it in rain,
And laugh as I pass in thunder.

MARK TO SHOOT AT

(Winnipeg Free Press)

The basic fact in the new Government civil aviation policy is the creation of a main-line monopoly owned and operated by the public. This is something which the C.C.F. hails with pleasure for, to that party, monopoly in itself is not bad; it is only the private monopoly which should be condemned. From this point of view The Free Press desires to dissociate itself sharply. Monopoly, government or private, can be accepted only when its results can be justified in the public interest. The establishment of effective competition over as wide a range of economic affairs as possible is the mark to shoot at.

ESSENTIAL TRADE

(Vancouver Sun)

General Smuts has come out on the side of the small trader when recently he painted an optimistic picture of the peace to come. Fundamental policy of his Government, he said, was private enterprise and personal initiative in all matters of industrial and commercial development. He told the Congress of Chambers of Commerce of South Africa in Capetown: "This war is going to be followed, especially in South Africa, by a great forward movement—perhaps greater than anything in our history." That is the spirit. Let us not be afraid of the future. Let us not think we are going to be overwhelmed by postwar troubles.

IN GRAVEST JEOPARDY

(Calgary Herald)

If a C.C.F. government is ever elected in Canada the holders of life insurance policies can make up their minds that there will be a sudden and drastic decline in the value of the assets behind those policies. The unfortunate part of such a situation, if it ever develops, is that Mr. Coldwell and his lieutenants will not be able to take remedial action such as the Bennett Government did. The savings of millions of Canadians, invested over many years, will be in the gravest jeopardy. That fact is proved by C.C.F. statements of today, a fact that should be held in mind when the next Federal election comes.

DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT

(Edmonton Journal)

Some good definitions of government in a democracy have made their appearance in recent years, but one of the best was given by Sir Robert Borden some 20 years ago in an address on Canadian constitutional authority. He defined it "as embracing order, security, equality before the law, opportunity and liberty. The King's (that is the people's) peace must be kept. The right to labor and to enjoy the fruits of labor in the form of property must be assured. All men must be equal before the law. Opportunity for the many must be established by the denial of special privilege to the few. Conscience must be respected; and, finally, there must be such individual liberty as is consistent with the maintenance of these principles."

MUST BE CAREFUL

(Windsor Star)

We must be very careful that the end of the war does not find us in the somnolent state in which it seems a good and comfortable thing to shift all our burdens onto a government and to consider that it is too much bother to think or act for ourselves.

STRANGE NEW WORLD

(Ottawa Journal)

Comes the American Chemical Society with news of a process for making gasoline and coal from farm, forest and sea plants: the process telescoping into a few hours, with heat and pressure, what Nature took millions of years to do in forming coal and oil. . . . Impossible? Well, that is what most of us would have said 50 years ago about the prospect of a man breakfasting in Montreal, hopping a plane and dining in London—or about radio. Before us there seems to lie a new, strange, mysterious world.

REAL TURNING POINT

(Montreal Star)

Perhaps it is impossible to assess the true value of our African adventure now, but the historian, with more evidence available, may conclude that our refusal to withdraw from the Mediterranean and Africa when the logic of the situation demanded that we retreat to defend the British Isles was in fact the turning-point in the war. If Germany and Italy had been able to cut their way through to the Middle East, Russia's position would have been precarious indeed when Hitler chose his moment to strike. Altogether apart from the immediate military considerations, we would not have been able to supply Russia through the Mediterranean and the Persian Gulf with the material which played so important a part in her victory over the Wehrmacht.

U.S. Gives Award For Kiska Service

OTTAWA, April 14 (CP)—Brig. H. W. Foster, 41, of Picton, Ont., serving with the Canadian Army overseas, has been awarded the American Legion of Merit by the United States Government, National Defence Headquarters announced.

The decoration was presented as a mark of appreciation for his participation in co-operation with the United States forces in the occupation of Kiska Island in the Aleutians.

Kiska now is garrisoned solely by United States troops, the Canadians having been withdrawn. The citation accompanying Brig. Foster's award said:

"His leadership and unselfish devotion to the success of the project were outstanding and set a high mark for unreserved co-operation between two allied powers."

Observation Car

By G.B.

From The Windsor Star: "One thing about this postponement of income tax payments, you will not feel the need of your shirt so much in August." . . . "Mugwump," a term of derision widely used in the 80's and 90's, is an Anglicization of the Algonkian Indian word "mukquomp," from moqui, meaning great, and onup, man. . . . A cat residing with a kindly family at Pentrelew Place shows its gratitude by bringing home dead snakes and laying them at the feet of its master and mistress. The animal has also learned to retrieve objects, like a dog. . . . Henry Ford once remarked: "Our only source of prosperity in this country is the work we do to supply the needs of those who in turn supply our needs." . . . Two policemen greeted each other at the intersection of Douglas and Pigard Streets, and one immediately noticed that the other had a piece of shirt tail peeping forth from his tunic. In a loud voice he exclaimed: "Your petticoat is showing." A woman passing by blushed a fiery red, and replied, "Oh, is it?" . . . Several young men who quit their jobs in 1939 and joined the army at the outbreak of war, and were discharged within 18 months for medical reasons, told us the only thing they had to show for their service was a button. There should be some special form of recognition for those who flocked to the colors when first the gods of war were let loose. . . . From The Canadian Doctor: "The line-up ran for a full city block and ended near a street window bearing a sign in block letters 'Blood Donor Clinic.' The old gentleman on the street car turned to his wife. 'There, my dear, is an illustration of what I was saying at breakfast. It is a bitter morning, but the need is great, and those people are quick to respond. There lies our national strength, in the spirit of the people.' At times even age and failing eyesight can be a blessing. The line-up was for the liquor commission shop next door."

LENGTH OF YEAR

Sir,—On March 2 a very interesting letter appeared in The Daily Colonist which contained a common mistake. The letter read in part, "A year is 365 days and six hours." If such were so, 1900 A.D. would have been a leap year, whereas it was not.

QUAIL VANISHED

Sir,—Have been a lifelong lover of wild life and am puzzled by this problem. For years we had a large flock of California quail living near us, ditto several others of friends property. Like a flash last September they disappeared in all localities. Why, how? They do not migrate, and could not be trapped, or shot. Would you be good enough to put a little note of inquiry, for I can get no explanation myself.

TOO FAT OR TOO TALL

LONDON, April 14 (CP-Reuter's).—They're either too fat or too tall—that is the verdict of the Ministry of War Transport after interviewing 100 girls who volunteered to man canal barges. A Ministry of War Transport official explained the girls must be small and tough because three girls share a cabin no more than five feet high and seven feet by ten in area.

Pioneer Passes

Contributed

After a voyage of 82 years through life's varied seas an old-time West Coaster of the Island moored his bark in the last port of call when the mortal remains of the late Anton Luckovich, who passed away on April 3 at his Shawnigan Lake home, were laid to rest in the three-shaded cemetery adjacent to the country church of St. Francis at Mill Bay. The Very Rev. W. Lemmens, of Tzouhalem, officiated. Rev. E. Lombard, who serves the Mill Bay mission from Duncan, directed the choir. The church was filled by members of the family and friends. The pallbearers were: A. Sutton, P. G. Cudlip, Jim Davidson, Bert McArthur, George Berg and Elmer Wolf.

Mr. Luckovich was born in Centinje, on the Lake of Scutari in Montenegro, in 1861. When 10 years old, young Anton went to sea with his father, who was owner and captain of a small merchant vessel, sailing the Mediterranean and calling at ports of Italy, Greece, Asia Minor, Syria, Palestine, Egypt, Northern Africa, Spain and France.

The young mariner had his eyes on the water that heaved and ebbed beyond the Pillars of Hercules, and at 20 years of age he was eager to sail other seas. At Marseille, France, he took passage on a windjammer as boatswain. The next port of call was Rio Janeiro, Brazil. Thence the ship turned its bow south along the South American coast, around the Horn, beating its way for 25 days into the Pacific, making calls, as business demanded, on all ports of the western coast of South America, Central American countries, San Francisco, California, and, at long last casting anchor in the harbor of Victoria, in August, 1881, 105 days out from Marseille.

The adventurous young man soon after landing in Victoria found employment with Captain Spring, first fishing, then sealing in the Bering Sea for two years. Learning his sturdy qualifications, his employer put him in charge of a store at Uclulet on the West Coast. After five years the enterprising store clerk took over Captain Spring's store at Hesquiat, trading there in the inner harbor with Indians, prospectors and timber cruisers, from 1888 until 1908, in which year he engaged in Government service as lighthouse keeper at Estevan Point.

Later, he bought a small dairy farm in the Shawnigan Lake district, where he reared a large family.

He is survived by his widow, Katharine; five sons, Felix, Bertrand, Granite Bay; Edwin, Salkum, Washington; Gus, Seattle; Bill, Tofino; and seven daughters, Irene Johnson, San Francisco; Josephine Lindskill, Kathleen McArthur, Thelma Wells, Victoria; Margaret Davidson, Shawnigan Lake; and Anita, at home. Mr. Luckovich's oldest son, Austin, while guiding three coal prospectors in a canoe along the West Coast, was drowned with several companions off Sunday Rock, some twenty years ago.

The large attendance at the last rites and the many floral wreaths were the mute evidence of the high esteem in which Mr. Anton Luckovich was held by friends and acquaintances.—Rev. M. E. Snyder.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
6 ♣	Pass	Pass	6 ♠
Pass	Pass	Pass

Under the circumstances South's six spade bid was a good "sporting" effort, but he failed to back it up with good play.

West led the club queen, and on the thought that now was the only possible chance to make a club trick, declarer put up dummy's king. East, however, produced the ace, and declarer had to ruff. After drawing several rounds of trumps, declarer then tried out the heart break by cashing the ace and king, but obviously enough the jack could not be established. Down one!

Two different points were self-evident in this deal. First, it was inconceivable that West, having led the club queen, could hold the ace. Second, since West was marked with nine black cards, it was extremely unlikely that he had length in hearts. The way to play the hand, then, was to ruff the opening lead without sacrificing the club king, to lead out every trump and one top heart, then to enter dummy with a diamond and throw East in with that carefully preserved club king. East would have had to hold two hearts, hence would now be forced to return that suit to the North-South tenace.

New Canadian Destroyer Is Commissioned in Clyde Yard

A CLYDE SHIPYARD, April 14.—H.M.C.S. Algonquin, one of the fastest and most modern destroyers in the world, has been commissioned by the Royal Canadian Navy here with an all-Canadian crew. The ship was transferred to Canada while still building and renamed by Canadian-born Mrs. Douglas Ramsay at the commissioning ceremony.

Commanding officer is Lieutenant-Commander D. M. Piers, D.S.C., R.C.N., youthful destroyer veteran and formerly commanding officer of H.M.C.S. Restigouche. Vice-Admiral P. W. Nelles, C.B., R.C.N., senior Canadian flag officer overseas, attended the commissioning and addressed the ship's company.

It was late afternoon before the dockyard mateys had put the finishing touches to the new destroyer and the ship's company mustered on deck for the ceremony. All around her were fighting ships in all stages of construction and on many of them the workers climbed to vantage points to watch the Royal Canadian Navy take over their latest job.

Covering the ship's bell was the blue ensign of Canada. Removing this, Mrs. Douglas Ramsay said: "I rename this ship H.M.C.S. Algonquin. May God bless all who sail on her."

Addressing the ship's company, the commanding officer told them she was the finest ship in the Royal Canadian Navy.

"She has been built in a world-famous shipyard where they have specialised in fighting ships of every type," said Lieutenant-Commander Piers. "She is a good ship and a well-built one. I look to you to help me make her the finest ship in our navy."

NELLES SAYS ACTION NOT FAR AWAY

Vice-Admiral P. W. Nelles said that action was not far away, and "I shall do what I can to ensure that this ship will take her part in the major operations which are to come."

Seventh destroyer to be given to Canada by Britain in the past year in a mutual-aid-in-reverse policy, the Algonquin is the first ship of her type in the Canadian navy.

A Fleet class destroyer, built to operate with capital ships, cruisers and aircraft carriers, the Algonquin has a long operational range which would make her particularly valuable in this type of work.

Two thousand tons and more than 360 feet in length, the Algonquin has a speed of more than 36 knots.

In appearance, she follows traditional destroyer lines. A new type of quick-release life raft, equipped with provisions and water, are at hand for emergencies.

YOUTHFUL COMMANDER EXPERIENCED VETERAN

Commander Piers, the commanding officer, is a youthful destroyer veteran of operational duties in British and European waters, in addition to three years of North Atlantic convoy duty since the war began. Before the war he served for five years with the Royal Navy.

First lieutenant is Lieut. Latham Brereton Jenson, of Calgary. Lieut. John Douglas Lowe, of Red Deer, Alta., is boarding officer.

While readying for her commissioning, the Algonquin received a cheque for £50 from the Dorsetshire Service Club, which adopted the ship during Warships Week in Britain.

A few weeks later, however, she was transferred to the Royal Canadian Navy and to the Algonquin came a welcome gift of comforts for her crew in the form of the cheque.

Spring Work on Prairie General

WINNIPEG, April 14 — Spring work on the land has become general at a number of widely separated points in the West, T. S. Acheson, general agricultural agent, Canadian Pacific Railway, reported today.

Telegraphic advices reaching the agricultural department of the railway said a farmer eight miles from Swift Current, Sask., has seeded 150 acres of barley.

Work started on the land at Reston, in the southwest corner of Manitoba, on Wednesday and is now fairly general. Soil is in good condition except that it is somewhat dry on top.

At Winnifred, Alta., east of Lethbridge, work started April 7th and seeding is now general. Moisture conditions were described as poor, but there is sufficient top moisture for seeding and germination.

Now Turning Out Invasion Ships

PORTLAND, April 14 (AP).—Transports and troopships, converted from cargo vessels, are rolling out of Portland shipyards—and some of them have already been delivered for battle, the United States Navy disclosed today.

Conversion of ships for approaching invasion, underway for some time in this area's yards, has been kept under strict military secrecy despite the 10,000 tin-hatters engaged in the work.

Most of the hulls converted here were built in Puget Sound and San Francisco yards. Types turned out include troopships and cargo vessels designed to move up to invasion points with the fleet. Number of craft delivered was not disclosed.

Three Lost When Craft Capsizes

ABERDEEN, Wash., April 14 (AP).—Edwin Skrondal, former Aberdeen councilman and long-time mechanical superintendent of The World here, and two commercial fishing companions were lost when his fishing boat, the Donna, capsized attempting to cross the Willapa Harbor bar in rough weather last evening.

The coast guard said the mishap occurred near No. 2 buoy in North Cove. United States army and navy planes on patrol sighted the boat six miles north of the mouth of the Columbia this morning.

NOTICE TO MARINERS

Mariners are advised that the fixed span of the Kitsilano Bridge, False Creek, will be removed and replaced to allow a vessel to pass out into English Bay. The lifting scows will be placed under at 19:00 hours April 17 until 19:00 hours of the next day, April 18, when the passage should be clear again.

Mariners should use extreme caution in this vicinity during the above-mentioned times, and no tow of logs or scows should obstruct in any way or hinder the passage of this large vessel.

Dept. of Transport, Victoria.

Pilot Tells of Fighter Command

A young Canadian fighter pilot, born 24 years ago in Saskatchewan, attached to the R.A.F. since 1938, with 15 enemy planes to his credit, shot down twice in the English Channel, and with military distinctions including the D.S.O., D.F.C. and Bar, United States Silver Star, and 1939-43 Star, Wing Commander E. F. J. Charles has come to Victoria under auspices of United Kingdom Information Association, and yesterday afternoon told members of the Women's Canadian Club about "Fighter Command."

To this taller than average Canadian, well-built, with thick brown hair and clear blue eyes, the story he unfolded was actually a recital of his daily life. He never embellished with adjectives his dramatic chronicle. He did not need additional coloring, for the facts stood out in bold relief as his listeners heard this first-hand, personal record. Wing Commander Charles spoke candidly, simply, about those things he understands and knows best—the skies, and particularly the battle skies, are familiar zones to him. He took listenrs into those skies with him, so vividly that one could tingle with his great sense of adventure as he "flew to a French airdrome. It was 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and we were flying south—the sun was on our right. Yes, at 2 in the afternoon the sun would be on our right." And there was the chase with the enemy, the "Hun," as this pilot referred to the German flyers throughout his discourse.

The Wing Commander told about his friends at the Flight Command—men from Norway, South Africa, New Zealand, Poles, Czechs, Irishmen and French. He related incidents that made these fighter pilots very real, very close to his listeners. Poignant stories, with plot and denouement that far out-dramatized any fiction tale, were related in the same sentences as some lighter aspect of Fighter Command life.

SWEEPSTAKE PAYS FOR PARTY

His own exploits were told with unassuming simplicity. The part he took in downing the 1,000th German plane emphasized the eagerness of the pilots to share in the chase for the sweepstake of £1,000 which would be the award for the 1,000th enemy plane. The manoeuvring this pilot went through to gain a certain position were humorously related, and with the assistance of another pilot "I came underneath and shot both Huns down." Immediately he diverted his listeners' attention from his own act by telling them a Frenchman also reported an enemy plane to his credit, so the sweepstake was split. However, a party had been arranged at Grosvenor House, to which 1,500 people were invited from the Fighter Command, and the prize money paid for the affair, he related with a laugh.

He stressed the loyalty among the Fighter Command pilots, and as an illustration told of a time when he was shot down, and bailed out into the English Channel. Making light of his experience, he spoke of the dinghy in which he paddled until picked up and was returned to England. "I was lucky," he admitted.

Introduced by the president, Mrs. F. G. Aldous, the Wing Commander was also thanked by the president.

Miss Shirley Gunn sang two solos, accompanied by Mrs. G. A. McCurdy. Her choice of songs, "Les Filles de Cadiz" (Delibes), and "Do You Remember?" (Levitzki).

Student Artists Give Recital

The Canadian Federation of Music Teachers' Associations presented the second concert in the Artist Students' Exchange series last night in the Victoria Truth Centre when the two artists were Jessie Carmichael, Vancouver lyric soprano, and Francis Vye, Victoria pianist.

Miss Carmichael was applauded by the audience throughout her well-balanced and varied programme. Her voice had freshness and ease of production and yet was well controlled. Opening with the aria, "Rejoice Greatly," from Handel's "The Messiah," which was taken a good deal slower than one is accustomed to hear it, her program contained songs by both classical and modern composers.

She was at her best in her final group, which was made up of five well-chosen modern art songs. The highlight of this group was Miss Carmichael's delicate interpretation of Frank Bridge's love song, "E'en as a Lovely Flower." Her only operatic number was the sparkling "Waltz Song" from Gounod's "Romeo and Juliette," in which the difficult bel canto passages were effectively executed. Ethel James, of Victoria, was the accompanist.

The assisting artist, Francis Vye, of Victoria, displayed good technical equipment and an admirable feeling for dynamics in his interpretation of four works by modern composers. Especially well received was his performance of Cuthbert Harris' "Fugato and Introduction." The familiar "Golliwog's Cake Walk" of Debussy, however, lacked the essential tongue-in-cheek humor which the composer intended and which could be achieved if more attention were paid to rubato.

Mr. Reginald Cox, of the Victoria Music Teachers' Association, spoke briefly preceding the recital, and afterwards entertained the artists and members of the executive at an informal gathering at his home.

Registered Nurses Meet For Thirty-Second Year

Over 100 nurses attended the all-day session of the 32nd annual meeting of the Registered Nurses' Association of British Columbia, held on Friday at the Empress Hotel. Sessions will continue this morning and afternoon.

Highlight of yesterday's events was the panel discussion held in the evening, led by Miss Lyle Creelman, director of public health nursing, Metropolitan Health Committee, Vancouver. Subject of the discussion was a study to make use of the available nurses to the best advantage.

Those taking part in the discussion were Miss Elinor Palliser, director of the Nursing School, Vancouver General Hospital; Miss Elizabeth Braund, director of Provincial Placement Service; Miss Jean Gibson, chairman of general nursing section; Miss Trenna Hunter, chairman of public health section; Miss Emily Nelson, chairman school of nursing section; Mrs. Edith Pringle, deputy inspector of hospitals, and Miss Hazel Merritt, Royal Jubilee Hospital.

INCREASING DUTIES A PROBLEM

Major problems that confront the nursing profession are the increasing services. The speakers spoke of the higher birth rate, fewer doctors, increased population in some centres and heavy demands on public health nursing, such as increased tuberculosis, venereal disease and housing.

The second major problem is the lack of personnel. The demand for more nurses in hospitals in rural areas is steadily increasing.

Particular tribute was paid to nurses in out of the way hospitals, where they work long hours without a day off. The role played by part-time nurses was emphasized as important.

Amusing skits were given to illustrate situations causing dissatisfaction among nurses and this humorous touch in the proceedings was greatly enjoyed.

Suggested means of meeting the nursing problems were discussed and conclusions drawn that effective administration, orientation, staff education and placement service were essential for a smooth-running nursing organization.

MORNING SESSION

At the morning session Rev. Hugh A. McLeod, D.D., gave the opening prayers. Dr. T. W. Walker, president of the British Columbia Hospitals' Association, and Dr. P. A. C. Cousland, president of the British Columbia Medical Association, welcomed the nurses. The texts of their addresses focused on the two common enemies of the nursing profession: war-robbing the civilian lists of doctors and nurses, and rampant disease. Dr. Cousland spoke of the postwar planning committee for doctors, dentists, pharmacists and nursing associations.

Of special interest was the placement service reports given by Miss Brand of the functional side and Miss Margaret Duffield of the organization. The placement bureau established in British Columbia to supply continual service of nurses for private duty is the first of its kind in Canada.

Miss Margaret Kerr, president of the association, outlined the history of the organization from its beginning in 1912 to the present date, giving highlights of its works. She told of the struggle for shorter nursing hours, which was finally accomplished in 1935. Miss Kerr spoke of the first survey of the training schools made in 1919, which is now held regularly and controls the standard of the schools throughout British Columbia.

"Word has just been received that $2,000 of the youth training plan fund has been allocated for the student nurses," said Miss Alice Wright, registrar.

$20,000 FOR B.C.

The Government grant report was given by Miss Grace Fairley and she reported that the Federal Government grant is $225,000 for nurse recruitment, public health and advanced education. Approximately $20,000 of this grant is for this work in British Columbia.

Press and publications convener, Miss Janie E. Jamieson, reported that since November, in 1943, when the subscriptions to The Canadian Nurse numbered 526, the total to date is 800 subscribers. Miss Margaret Kerr will leave British Columbia on April 20 for Montreal, where she will take up her new position with The Canadian Nurse, as editor and business manager.

Committee reports were also given by Miss Mary E. Henderson, legislation; Mrs. Edith Pringle, finance.

Flower Show Will Be Held April 28

The first of the flower shows of 1944 will be staged in the Crystal Garden south hall by the Victoria Horticultural Society on April 28 and 29. Entries are invited by the society from all flower growers.

The prize list includes nearly all flowers now in bloom, but as tulips are now coming into their prime, the Crystal Garden will be a blaze of these magnificent flowers. Opportunity is at this time afforded the public to view the newer varieties in all their beauty.

Prize lists may now be obtained from Alderman D. D. McTavish, 907 Fort Street. Entries may also be made at this address.

TAX WORRIES FATAL

LONDON, April 14 (CP).—A coroner, returning a verdict of suicide in the death of a Cheshire farmer, said today "it really was a pathetic case of an overworked farmer who could not cope with bookkeeping and Government returns." Members of the farmer's family said he especially was disturbed by Britain's new pay-as-you-go income tax plan.

Russian Front

Altogether on Thursday, Tolbukhin's army captured 6,000 prisoners for a six-day total of 17,000, while Gen. Yeremenko's independent coastal army driving in from the Kerch Peninsula seized 5,000 the same day to make its total 14,000.

Yeremenko's troops occupied Karasubazar, 25 miles east of Simferopol in an 11-mile inland gain, and also captured Sudak on the Black Sea coast in a 16-mile advance. The union with Tolbukhin's forces apparently occurred at Karasubazar.

Soviet airplanes hovered over Sevastopol, attacking enemy ships or planes attempting to evacuate enemy personnel. Roads leading into Sevastopol were littered with Axis dead and wrecked enemy equipment, dispatches said.

Across the Black Sea to the northwest the Russian Third Ukraine Army, under Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky, finally cleared the entire east bank of the Dnestr Estuary southwest of Odessa in the Ovidiopol area, capturing eight localities, said the broadcast communique recorded by the Soviet monitor.

UKRAINE PROVINCE NEARLY ALL FREED

The liberation of this corner of the mainland freed the entire Ukraine province of prewar Russia, with the exception of a few miles on the lower fringes of the Pripyat Marshes just south of White Russia.

No further progress on the Romanian front was mentioned in the bulletin, but in prewar Poland Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's First Ukraine Army captured 40 localities southwest of Czortkow in the area south of Tarnopol, which has been surrounded and under siege since March 26.

The German High Command said Axis troops had "gained further ground" northwest of Iasi, Romanian rail city, and said German and Hungarian troops also had advanced somewhat in the Delatyn area near the Tatar Pass on the Czech border, and had hurled back the Russians on both sides of Brody, 50 miles northeast of the big Polish communications hub of Lwow.

Berlin also claimed Soviet troops attacking south of Pskov opposite Latvia and Estonia had been repulsed in "break-through attempts with fresh units."

Telling of the rapid Soviet conquest in the Crimea, a Moscow bulletin said panicky Germans were "abandoning not only trucks, rifles and ammunition" in their retreat, "but even their own personal clothing, overcoats, boots, steel helmets, kitbags and gas masks."

Prisoners reported that "German and Romanian generals have left the Crimea by plane, abandoning their divisions to fate," Moscow said in its latest communique.

whenever any of their nationals are arrested and may visit them and receive communications from them.

The treaty will come into effect when ratifications are exchanged at Chungking. It will be tabled in the Commons by the Prime Minister at an early date.

Dr. Liu, in a statement issued after signing the treaty, said it marked "another step forward in our happy relations."

"As the first formal treaty ever signed by Canada with China it will be received by the Chinese people with acclaim," he said.

The abolition of extra-territorial rights ended a century of "unequal treaties" between China and the majority of the other powers.

"It is significant that the signing of the new treaty has followed very closely the conclusion of the mutual aid agreement between Canada and China on March 22," the Ambassador said. "The tremendous assistance extended to China by Canada, both before and after the enactment of the mutual aid law, has meant a great deal to the war effort being put forth by the Chinese people."

Co-operation between Canada and China would be further accelerated with the completion of the postwar treaty for which provision was made in the document completed today, he added.

Ask for Reports on Bequest for Babies

Health committee in session yesterday asked Dr. Richard Felton, city medical health officer, and Miss M. Baird, R.N., supervisor to the V.O.N., to prepare a report on the ways and means of dealing with the bequest of John Newberry Hatch for the nine best babies attending the city's well baby clinic.

When completed, the report will be submitted to F. L. Shaw, city solicitor, and H. O. S. Heisterman for their study and final report back to the health committee.

The will of the late Mr. Hatch provided $45,000 for a trust fund, the interest from which should be shared annually among nine babies from families having at least four children.

C.P.R. Tax Terms May Be Announced Monday

W. A. Mather, vice-president of Western lines for the C.P.R., and Capt. R. W. McMurray, called on Mayor Andrew McGavin yesterday, and following the conference the mayor indicated the possibility of making public Monday the terms of a proposed agreement between the company and the city on the Empress Hotel taxes and other allied C.P.R. issues.

The mayor added that Mr. Mather said that negotiations for the company were in the hands of J. E. McMullen, solicitor for the C.P.R., who is expected daily for a session with the special city committee named to discuss the matter. In the event of the conference being held today, announcement of the proposal will probably be made at Monday's meeting of the City Council.

Mr. Mather indicated, the mayor stated, that in conversation with Mr. McMullen he learned that the negotiations were proceeding in a satisfactory manner.

Rare Stamps Shown

Many members attended the monthly meeting of the Vancouver Island Philatelic Society last Thursday evening at the Empress Hotel, when Capt. Fyfe showed his very fine collection of unused blocks of Canadian stamps. These included many scarce items, for in addition to an almost complete display of the regular issues from Queen Victoria on, nearly all the rare unperforated sets were represented as well.

Capt. Fyvie explained that these stamps, while not included in the stamp catalogues in some cases, were nevertheless issued under Government authority, although not sold over the counter in the ordinary way. Only five sheets of each were printed, and it is 15 years since the Government last authorized their issue. There have been one or two instances since then, however, when a sheet, due to an error in manufacture, has appeared with the vertical perforations missing entirely, and these have been sold at the stamp wickets in the ordinary way. Some of these were included in the display.

At the request of H. Lethaby, president, V. N. Bigwood moved a hearty vote of thanks to the speaker.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP).—A handful of specialties behaved fairly well in today's stock market but the general run of leaders did little either way.

Mild investment demand propped scattered favorites although many potential buyers continued to stand aside or lighten commitments to await more important European events.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was unchanged at 51.8. The market lacked breadth, only 794 individual issues registering. Of these, 283 were up, 265 down and 246 with no variation. Transfers of 477,220 shares were the smallest for a full session since October 14 and compared with 659,590 Thursday.

Among better performers was Pennsylvania Coal and Coke which was up a point at 15 1-4, a 1944 peak. Park & Tilford tacked on 1 3-4 as hopes of a whisky dividend by this company revived.

Industries Bid for After-War Business

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP).—More than 30 large private business concerns in the United States have started individual negotiations with Russia for postwar orders, Business Week says in an analysis of "the war and business abroad."

These companies alone may book $1,500,000,000 of Soviet business in the next six months, the magazine estimates.

The negotiators are looking forward to orders that can be rushed into production the moment war demands slacken, the magazine asserts.

The names of the companies are not disclosed.

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, April 14 (CP).—A good upturn in rye and barley futures in the closing minutes of trade imparted strength to other pits and all cereals closed with a strong undertone. The buying was based on unconfirmed rumors that Canada may halt exports of barley to this country.

Previous to the late advance the market had been lacking any definite trend. At one time fairly substantial offerings of May wheat and oats were made, but these were absorbed without difficulty at ceiling levels. The late upturn was aided by the covering and an improvement in the market's technical condition following yesterday's sell-off.

At the close, wheat was unchanged to 1-2 higher, oats were unchanged to 5-8 higher, rye was ahead 1-4 to 1 cent, and deferred barley contracts were up 3-4 to 7-8.

Toronto Stocks

TORONTO, April 14 (CP).—Moderate declines were recorded for all four index groups on the Toronto market today while trading slackened off to about the smallest volume in a month. Turnover was around 300,000 shares for the session.

A dividend announcement gave Brazilian Traction a lift of 3-4 to 23 3-4 on sizeable volume. Other utilities worked lower and final prices were down moderately for senior oils, steels and miscellaneous issues. Food improved. Steel of Canada lost a point to 63.

Scattered gains appeared in golds, but the balance of changes was on the down side, San Antonio firmed 5.

Trade was light in base metal stocks and mild weakness was general in the Western oil group. Home, Calgary & Edmonton, British-Dominion and Vermilata closed narrowly lower.

What Today Means

ARIES

If April 15 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:15 a.m. to 11:15 p.m., from 1:15 to 4:15 p.m., and from 8:15 to 10:15 p.m. The danger periods are from 8:15 to 10:15 a.m., from 6:15 to 8:15 p.m., and from 10:15 p.m. until midnight.

Do not act mysteriously today if you do not wish to have a decidedly irritating effect upon those who are around you. Nervous people, in particular, will have no patience with anyone using a pussy-footing tactic of approach, so talk and walk like you were a human being and not a supernatural visitor to this mundane sphere, if you wish to remain popular. Avoid using a confidential tone of voice when there is no occasion for it, for it will be conducive to very unfavorable reactions. Today if you are tempted to talk about something you know little or nothing about, it will be decidedly good judgment to keep quiet. Conditions are conducive to make the average person very critical and it will not take much for them to find an excuse for venting their spleen, so to get through the day successfully you will have to be most tactful, especially if you are married, engaged or passing through the period of courtship.

If a woman and April 15 is your birthday, always remember the more successful you are the more subject you will be for criticism, and the more vigilant you must be to counteract its pernicious influence on the gullible. Should you instinctively feel that you ought to pursue a certain course of action you should never let anyone dissuade you from doing so, for the chances are that sooner or later you will have to do so anyway, and valuable time will have been lost and in the meantime you may have had to put up with a needless amount of aggravation. As a business operator or manager, broker, interior decorator, scientific research worker, writer, lecturer, teacher, demonstrator, doctor, lawyer, designer, actress, singer, musician, artist, publicity expert, secretary, trained nurse, dietician, factory or Government employee in some specialized line of activity, you should find yourself launched upon a promising career with unlimited money-making possibilities. Your matrimonial prospects for happiness are more promising.

The child born on April 15 is generally a wide-awake youngster who seldom misses anything that is going on. Quick to grasp opportunities, Aries children are constantly making progress in the right direction for the fulfillment of their most cherished ambitions.

If a man and April 15 is your natal day, never let a little success give you a false sense of security, for it will be only through continuous industriousness that you will be able to achieve a permanent degree of it. The best incentive you can have to attain the goal you have set for yourself is a devoted wife and family. As an engineer, architect, contractor, promoter, author, writer, artist, inventor, educator, scientist, business executive, salesman, accountant, physician, jurist, actor, painter, skilled mechanic, agriculturist, or as one of your country's fighting men, golden opportunities to win through to the goal of your ambition seem destined to be within your grasp.

PORT ARTHUR TRIMS LODESTARS TO TIE SERIES

Glancing Over Sport—

By JOE DELABUNTY

THE DAY'S ROUNDUP

Some days ago it was officially announced from the Head of the Lakes by the C.A.H.A. rule makers that it would be total goals which would decide the Western Canada senior hockey finals. That was in black and white in nearly every paper in the Dominion, but last night it came booming over the teletype machines in this office that an eighth game would be played this evening and would be "played to a finish." Why don't the "big shots" make up their minds before releasing news for continent-wide publication? . . . Lodestars were no match for the Lakehead gang last night and were soundly beaten by a better club, according to information reaching this sportsroom via the telegraph wires. In that case, the Prediction Department will string along with the Port Arthur crew to win their way into the Canadian finals against the Quebec Aces, and don't say we didn't tell you so. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Football Phan if you want to see plenty of soccer today just take a No. 3 street car and drop off at the Athletic Park. Starting this morning at 11 o'clock a juvenile British Columbia final will be played; another provincial play-off is set for 1:15, and then a Province Cup match at 3 o'clock. You can tale in all these matches for a quarter, so if you want to see the opener and stay for the last fixture, bring your lunch and make a day of it. . . . The Edmonton United States Engineers basketball team is just another ball club as far as the Pat Bay Gremlins are concerned. The much-ballyhooed American squad from the Alberta city were soundly beaten in the first game of the Western Canada championship series last night in Vancouver by 23 points. It may be a closer game tonight but the Gremlins are home free if that opening score means anything at all. As Ralph "Pop" Pay said to me the other night: "Joe, you pick Edmonton to win the series and we can't miss." Ralph Baker, who was with him at the time seconded the motion whole-heartedly. I guess they must be right; I am wrong again.

FROM HERE AND THERE

Refereeing hockey games, especially those Stanley Cup play-offs, is no bargain at the best of times, but when the chips are down in the eliminations it ranks with Daniel's feat of entering the lion's den. Bill Stewart, who should know, claims it's a far tougher proposition than umpiring in a world series. Stewart was once a referee in the N.H.L. and he's still a National League umpire. He claims refereeing hockey games is a tougher assignment than umpiring ball fixtures for two reasons; first, you can make more misfakes in hockey because the players are always cutting across your vision and making you lose sight of the puck; second, hockey fans are so close to the players and the action that they become all steamed up and lose all perspective. . . . In the Detroit vs. Chicago series and the Stanley Cup finals, Referee Bill Chadwick came in for showers of raucous razzberries that beat down continuously on the pompadoured head of the veteran whistle-tooter. Bill didn't pay any attention to the rabid fans or the complaints of the opposing players for he knew President "Red" Dutton was on hand and was watching every move like a hawk. Yes, the life of a hockey referee isn't worth a wornout dime at times when the crowd gets up on its high horse. . . . In tomorrow morning's issue this corner will give you his line-up on the Kentucky Derby, the same one which will be sent to Frank Menke, cage of Churchill Downs, for the competition which is open to sports writers all over the continent. J.D. will give you the first five horses in order and the aproximate time of the Blue Grass classic. The winner of the guessing competition will receive a $500 war bond, while the scribes coming close will be forwarded bonds from $250 down to $25.

ODDS AND ENDS

Met Lieutenant Tony Hamilton, newly-appointed manager of the Navy baseball team, yesterday for the first time and he figures the bluejackets will have a strong lineup on deck when the race gets under way. "We have no idea what material we have on hand yet, but will have some idea next week when the training sessions start on Monday afternoon. The Navy has lost some of its regulars of last season, but we will have new faces out and hope that they will fill the gaps capably," he stated. . . . From what I can gather, fellows like Berringer, Effnert, Dumeah, Thompson and possibly Walker, one of the three hard-hitting outfielders of 1943, will be missing from the baseball roll call . . . The local golfing fraternity will be glad to know that Jimmy Todd, a five-time winner of the city amateur title and former British Columbia open monarch, is now promanager of the Braidburn Golf and Country Club in Madison, New Jersey. The ex-Oak Bay caddie is spending his fourth year with the rich American club, which was recently bought by one of Uncle Sam's millionaires. Twenty men are working on the layout at this writing, putting it into first-class condition for the coming season, under the supervision of Jimmy. Still it just seems like yesterday that Jimmy, the finest southpaw golfer this Dominion ever produced, was banging out victories on the local fairways. Good luck, Jimmy, but drop us a line for many Victorians heard that you were in the United States Army, so that's the main reason for these few lines, to put all your friends and admirers on the right track. . . . Connie King, centre for one of the Lodestars' best front lines, has returned to the city and ever since he landed in British Columbia the sport writers have been clamoring after him for an explanation of his sudden departure from Port Arthur. Apparently the line of Wilson, King and Duffy wasn't scoring goals, so figure it out for yourselves.

Gremlins Trounce Edmonton Cagers

Pat Bay Flyers Win First of Western Canada Finals—Baker, Pay, Andrews Star

VANCOUVER, April 14 (CP).—Patricia Bay R.C.A.F. Gremlins defeated Edmonton United States Engineers, 57-34, here tonight in the first game of the senior men's Western Canada finals. Second game of the best two-out-of-three series will be played here Saturday night, and the third, if necessary, Monday night.

Gremlins, defending Canadian champions, grabbed a 13-9 lead over the Alberta champions in the first quarter and increased the margin to 32-17 by half-time. In the third session the British Columbians went ahead 47-31 and in the final frame outscored the American soldiers 10-3.

About 1,000 fans saw Norm Baker, of Gremlins, put on a great foul-shot-throwing display, getting seven of these. He counted six field goals to lead all scorers with 19 points. "Porky" Andrews got 14 for Victoria and Ralph Pay, 13.

For the United States Engineers, John Gulleckson and Harley Miller each notched nine points and Gayle Chamness and Earl Ayres scored seven apiece.

Much of the sting was taken out of the American attack when Engineers' two high point-makers, Gulleckson and Miller, were banished early in the third quarter after having been credited with four personal fouls.

A highlight of the game was the shooting of Andrews, former University of Oregon star, now in the R.C.A.F. Andrews shot baskets from all angles.

The Canadians were guilty of 11 personals compared with 15 against the Americans, but they were distributed wider among the Gremlins and the British Columbia champions did not lose any players through the penalty route.

Oshawa Is Given Edge

Generals Favored Over Trail Tonight

TORONTO, April 14 (CP).—The history-making Trail Smoke Eaters, first British Columbia team to reach the Memorial Cup junior hockey finals, and the perennially-powerful Oshawa Generals, had their first glimpse of one another today as they tuned up on the Maple Leaf Garden ice surface. They clash here Saturday night in the opener of a best-of-seven-game series for the junior championship of Canada.

Smoke Eaters, fresh from a seven-game winning streak that swept them through the Saskatchewan and Lakehead contestants, worked out first as Oshawa players watched. Then Smokies parked on the rails and watched intently as the classy Generals went through their paces.

Generals, conquerors of St. Michael's College, University of Ottawa and Montreal Royals in their march to the finals, looped bigger and heavier than the Westerners, most of whom are 17 or 18 years old. Ballbirds mostly sailed Oshawa to take the series on their classy performance and past record, but the more cautious called to mind the frequent upsets young, little-favored Western squads have pulled in quick series.

The power-packed Generals, champions of Ontario for the past two years, have entered the finals every year except 1941 when they were nosed out by Montreal Royals. They won the cup twice, in 1939 and 1940, but the other times bowed to the Westerners.

Second game of the series will be played here Monday night, with the third and fourth Wednesday and Saturday.

Qualifying Round Set

Bob Morrison to Seek Golf Title

Return to competitive golf of Bob Morrison, one of the leading golfers in the province a few years back, former city and Uplands Club champion, who is now in the Royal Canadian Navy, will make this year's title scramble for the men's crown at the Uplands course all the more interesting. In announcing the draw for the 18-hole qualifying round, Secretary Jack Beveridge stated that Morrison will be teeing off tomorrow morning along with a field of 60 or more shotmakers.

Gordon Verley, present ruler at the links, will be defending his title and is hoping to make it two in succession. The runner-up a year ago, Roy Stranix, is also going postward. With Verley, Morrison and Stranix firing away for their pars and birdies, and Len Hibberson and a few more right on their games, it should be an interesting tournament to the final day.

Officials will appreciate it if the players turn up at the first tee a little ahead of time, as owing to transportation slight alterations may have to be made in starting times. Post entries will be accepted.

Andersson, Hagg To Run in U.S.?

STOCKHOLM, April 14 (AP).—Arne Andersson and Gunder Hagg, Sweden's middle distance stars, told reporters today they would be glad to compete in the United States National A.A.U. track and field championships, June 17 and 18, but only on condition air transportation be provided for them each way.

Andersson said he could not remain away from his job for more than a month and suggested he could leave Stockholm by air on June 10 and arrive in time for the meet, returning home about July 10.

"If Andersson goes, I'll go too," said Hagg, "but I don't want to go alone." He also specified air travel was the deciding factor.

Dan Ferris, secretary of the National A.A.U. said Friday in New York that his organization had communicated with the two Swedish stars during the Winter regarding the possibility of coming to the United States for the championship meet at New York in June.

Hagg appeared in a series of races in the United States last Summer. Hagg lowered the world record for the mile run to 4:04.6 in Stockholm, September 4, 1942, and Andersson was clocked in 4:02.6 on the same track, July 1, 1943.

Big Field To Tee Off In Tourney

Qualifying Round At Gorge Sunday

More than 50 club swingers will face the starter in the 18-hole card and pencil test for the men's championship at the Gorge Vale Golf Club tomorrow morning. The race for the crown this year is left wide open with Defending Champion Eph Robinson no longer a member of the club. Robinson captured the honors just 12 months ago after a great battle with Freddy Basanta, who will go to the post one of the prime favorites, for he has been knocking at the championship door for several years and is just about due to crash the gate. Basanta won the medal round last year with a well-played 76, just two over par, and at the present time he is hitting them straight for the pins and shouldn't be far off when the tournament winds up.

However, there are others who will be in the thick of the running from the start. The veteran Bert Snape, who seldom strays from the fairways, will be a tough customer once the qualifying round is over, while Ernie Brachat, Al Simpson, recent winner of the Maynard Cup, Louis DeCosta, Jimmy Cunningham, C. Spaven, Dick Cox, a former titleholder, Leo Derman, a dangerous match player, and several others may have a great deal to say about the crowning of the next champion at the layout.

Draw and starting times follow:

9:00—E. Brachat, Bob Johnstone and J. Eaplen.

9:05—H. R. McDonald, D. Hosmer and N. Howard.

9:10—J. Kennedy, M. E. McDowell and G. Petch.

Devil Diver Tops

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP).—Devil Diver, five-year-old handicap star in the stable of Mrs. Payne Whitney, is the top weighted thoroughbred at 129 pounds in tomorrow's $10,000 Excelsior Handicap of a mile and sixteenth at Jamaica.

Winner of the Paumonok Handicap at the Long Island plant, the son of St. Germans is getting added attention from early bettors because of the small field. Devil Diver always has done his best in relatively lonesome circumstances.

Only Tom Heard's Boyo, at 114 pounds, the Millbrook Stable's Alibhai, Joe W. Brown's Brownie and Mrs. Tilyou Christopher's Grey Wing have been named to oppose the Greentree charger.

VANCOUVER, April 14 (CP).—Gordon Grayston of the Royal Canadian Navy scored a five-round decision over Elmer Shanks in the main bout of a boxing card here tonight. Shanks was on his feet at the end of five rounds but was unsteady after absorbing one of Grayston's heavy right-hand punches in the fifth. Shanks won only the fourth round.

Coast Leaguers Are Beaten, 7-2

New Westminster Suffers One-Sided Setback—Eighth Game Will Be Played

PORT ARTHUR, April 14 (CP).—Port Arthur Shipbuilders, with a tight defence and greater speed, trimmed New Westminster Lodestars, 7-2, here tonight to force the Western Canada senior hockey finals into an eighth and deciding game here Saturday night. Each won three games and the other was a 5-5 overtime tie.

Winner tomorrow will meet Quebec Aces in the Allan Cup final.

Port Arthur began slowly, moved into a goal lead in the first period, outscored the Westerners, 3-2, in the middle session and completely controlled the play in the final 20 minutes when they netted three more markers.

In one of the toughest Western finals in years, the Thunder Bay champions have only outscored their British Columbia opponents 30-28 in seven games.

In their earlier victories Shipbuilders depended largely on their key forward trio of Stan Robertson, Norm Larson and Waikko Koivisto, but tonight Don Eaton, veteran Port Arthur forward, led the attack.

Eaton snared two goals and assisted in another with the other Port Arthur counters going to Pete Backor, Larson, Norm Wright and Bill McKenzie.

Maurice Duffy netted Lodestars first counter while Defenceman Joe Gollatt, of Port Arthur rested in the penalty box for tripping, and the other went to Johnny Ursaki.

In previous encounters Shipbuilders won the second and fourth games 6-1 and 5-4, and Lodestars the third, fifth and sixth, 2-1, 8-4 and 6-2.

Should the teams be deadlocked after regulation time tomorrow night they will "play-to-the-finish," officials said.

Walter McIntyre, husky Lodestar defenceman, drew two minor penalties late in the third period for charging and in the final minutes a near free-for-all developed.

About 1,500 attended.

FIRST PERIOD

Lodestars went on the offensive from the start and were sticking to the Shipbuilders on every return rush. Goalkeeper Hill, of Port Arthur, made a great save from Duffy, who got a pass from Fraser.

At 6:26 Shipbuilders moved into a goal lead with Robertson scoring on a pass from Eaton. Goalkeeper Young appeared to have the shot stopped but as he moved to clear the disc dropped behind him into the goal.

Duffy, Fraser and Wilson stormed around Port Arthur net but Hill kept them out. Ports appeared to be slowing up.

Lodestars threatened as the period drew near a close. Larson lost control of the puck on a breakaway, with only Young to beat as the period ended.

SECOND PERIOD

Leswick, who suffered a rib injury in the sixth game, went on the ice for the first time. After four minutes play, Eaton put Port Arthur ahead, 2-0, on a breakaway.

Defenceman Gollatt went to the penalty box for tripping Duffy and the latter came right back to take a double pass from Wilson and Fraser to score for Lodestars at 5:31.

Warshawski, who crashed Sinclair into the boards, and Koivisto and McIntyre, who were roughing, crowded the penalty box, giving Port Arthur a five-four manpower advantage.

With the teams at full strength at 12:44 Eaton increased Shipbuilders lead to 3-1 with a corner shot after taking Sinclair's pass.

At 13:57 Ursaki batted in a pass from Warshawski for Lodestars' second counter. In less than two minutes, Backor breezed through the New Westminster team to score for Port Arthur.

As the period ended a New Westminster goal was disallowed because a player was in the goal crease.

THIRD PERIOD

As the last period started, Sinclair suffered a head injury when Brayshaw attempted to go through the Port Arthur defence. He was removed to the dressing room.

Both teams continued close checking, with Hill saving nicely from Ursaki and Dotten. Then McKenzie missed an open net and when Robertson had Lodestars beaten on a breakaway Young outguessed him.

The Thunder Bay champions were breaking away from New Westminster players in the final ten minutes and repeatedly breaking up any New Westminster threats.

Larson followed Wywrot in on a breakaway to scoop in a loose puck at 11:34.

McIntyre was penalized for charging Robertson. Wright scored at 14:08 to make it 6-2 for Port Arthur. McKenzie scored again at 15:32 to raise the count to 7-2.

A free-for-all threatened as the period neared an end. Both McIntyre, of New Westminster, and Wright, of Port Arthur, were sent off for roughing.

Air Cadet Dance Attended by 500

The prime postwar objective of the Air Cadet League of Canada will be to keep alive the spirit of air-mindedness now prevalent in Canada, declared R. E. Standfield, British Columbia Air Cadet Committee chairman, in an address at the Greater Victoria Air Cadets' dance last night at the Shrine Auditorium.

Although the movement had been started as a defence measure, its rapid development had given it postwar importance, he held. Mr. Standfield is also Dominion director of the league.

Canada's location and terrain would give it a foremost place in postwar aviation, he said.

He invited cadets' parents to join their boys in becoming air-minded.

Before the 500 cadets and guests present danced to the Joeboys, the R.C.A.F.'s dance orchestra from Ottawa, the Victoria Schools Band under A. Prescott played several numbers.

Other programme items were: Songs and dances by pupils of the Florence Clough School; precision drill by girls from cadet wing headquarters under Flt. Sgt. Ida Bianco; precision rifle drill by a squad under A.C. W.O.1 Henderson, and a novelty dance by Ray Hunt.

Cadets were present from Victoria, Oak Bay Esquimalt, Mount Douglas and Mount View High Schools.

Gift Home Contest

Net proceeds from the gift home competition, sponsored by the Kinsmen Club of Victoria and the Solarium Junior League, are to be equally divided between Kinsmen charities, including Milk for Britain, and the Queen Alexandra Solarium for Crippled Children. Members of these two public-spirited groups report that they are delighted with the splendid support they have received from their many friends. As a result, unfortunate children will be able to look forward to a brighter, healthier future in the postwar world. Reeve W. L. Woodhouse will draw the winning ticket in the Empress Hotel at 10:45 o'clock tonight.

SCORES CAGE UPSET

CALGARY, April 14 (CP)—Calgary Wittichens, women's Alberta basketball champions, sprang the greatest upset of the current loop season when they handed the Dominion champion Vancouver Hedlunds a 30-24 setback in a thrill-packed exhibition tilt at Central Auditorium tonight. Hedlunds were weakened by the absence of two of their mainstays, Rita Bell and Kathie Smith, who remained in Winnipeg.

Elsie Aiello paced the winners' attack with 11 points, and her sparkling performance during the contest had the near-capacity crowd on edge throughout. She was given able assistance from Dorothy Brook, who accounted for eight points and gave a smart all-round display. Joan MacArthur was the standout of the Coast squad, accounting for 11 points.

Admits Guilt In City Court

Earl J. McNaughton, who pleaded guilty in city police court yesterday to several charges of breaking and entering and committing theft, was remanded by Magistrate Henry C. Hall until Monday for sentence.

McNaughton had previously pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking and entering the Jubilee Pharmacy, 1801 Fort Street, on the morning of April 12. Yesterday three additional charges were preferred against him. He pleaded guilty in each instance and elected summary trial.

The new charges included breaking and entering and committing theft in the homes of Mrs. F. Pottinger, Ailsa Mansions, Cook Street, and Mrs. P. Campbell, Mount Edward Apartments, Vancouver Street, and the butcher store of Lou Toy, 1501 Haultain Street.

Constable Denis Calvert, who has been highly commended by Chief J. A. McLellan for his arrest of the accused, told the court that he was checking over the Jubilee Pharmacy premises at about 1:30 o'clock on the morning of April 12. Going around to the rear of the store, he found McNaughton part way through a window, and ordered him to come down, which he did. The officer took the man to the prowler car and radioed headquarters for help, he told the court.

USED EMPTY BOXES TO REACH WINDOW

Constable Calvert said that on further investigation he found that McNaughton had used two empty boxes to stand on to reach the window which was seven feet from the ground. Inside the store, and directly below the window, he found an axe, which was later identified as having been stolen from the store of Lou Toy, 1501 Haultain Street.

Detective George Clayards informed the court that when the accused was searched in the detective office a quantity of jewelry, later identified as being stolen from the homes of Mrs. P. Campbell and Mrs. F. Pottinger, was found on McNaughton. Total value of the merchandise was $115, including wrist watches and rings.

Lou Toy reported the theft of an axe, a side of bacon and a case of eggs.

Previous convictions against the accused were read in court by the prosecutor.

Asked by the court if he had anything to say before sentence was imposed, McNaughton stated that he had been off liquor for two years, but had started again recently and that drinking had driven him crazy. Court reserved sentence until Monday.

Announces Convention

CHIEF J. A. McLELLAN

Head of the Victoria Police Department, who yesterday announced that the annual convention of the Chief Constables' Association of Canada will be held here on June 27, 28 and 29, when police department heads from all parts of the Dominion will be guests of the city department. Convention headquarters during the three-day session will be the Empress Hotel, with approximately 150 delegates expected.

Assize Jury Frees Sailor

Leading Seaman Norman T. E. Jones was acquitted Friday afternoon by the Assize Court jury which heard his trial on a double charge of attempted carnal knowledge and indecent assault. As Chief Justice Parris left the courtroom, Jones and the young lady involved rushed into each other's arms and for the second time during the day the young lady cried openly.

Their reunion followed fatherly advice from the Chief Justice to the young man to "consider well" the difficulties attendant upon overindulgence in liquor, and the youth's pledge that he would exercise care. Upon leaving the Courthouse Jones stated he was going directly to a telegraph office to notify his people in Saskatchewan of his acquittal.

Friday's sitting was occupied with argument by counsel, Joseph McKenna for the prosecution, and P. J. Sinnott for the defence, and by His Lordship's charge to the jury. The case went to the jury at 2:25 o'clock, and after time had been taken for lunch and the jury had returned, the not guilty verdict was given by A. L. Page, foreman, at 4:42 o'clock.

Emphasizing that it was the duty of the Crown to produce all proper evidence in police court, in fairness to all, His Lordship, at the opening of court in the morning, stated the case had been unduly delayed and lengthened by failure of the Crown at the preliminary hearing to call certain witnesses. He had found, he said, that "in Victoria only the most sketchy evidence is produced in a preliminary hearing" and in his opinion "it is essential that practice should not be carried on."

Later, opening his charge to the jury, he said the steps taken by the police in securing evidence were proper, but his criticism was "of the steps not taken in not calling the other witnesses." All facts, he said, should be placed before the magistrate.

Mr. McKenna, the Attorney-General's Department and the Provincial Police were absolved of criticism.

Crown and defence counsel, in their arguments, dealt with the question of lack of complaint by the aggrieved person, the questions of assault, intent and consent.

His Lordship, instructing the jury, emphasized that in this country an accused person must be presumed to be innocent until proved guilty, and stated an accused person must be given the benefit of reasonable doubt. He defined the charges and reviewed the evidence.

After the verdict had been delivered, he commented that the jury's decision was, in his opinion, a proper verdict.

Oppose Japanese Residence in B.C.

Native Sons of British Columbia, meeting here in annual convention of the Grand Post of the order, went definitely on record, Friday afternoon, as opposed to continued residence of Japanese in British Columbia.

The position taken by members was that Japanese had proved themselves as a nation and people to be dominated by the belief that Japan was destined to rule the world. Just as German militarism had arisen after the last war to again disrupt the world, as it had been doing for three centuries, so the ingrained belief of Japan that she was qualified to rule the universe constituted a positive threat to peace in the future. Under such conditions, it was felt, Japanese should, in future, be excluded from Canada.

The Native Sons also went on record as favoring as a prerequisition of citizenship by immigrants, a thorough understanding of the principles of democracy and of the basic ideas of citizenship in Canada.

It was felt that the Federal and Provincial Governments should give serious thought to a system of educating foreigners coming to the Dominion concerning the duties and privileges that were inherent in enfranchisement.

The Grand Post was last night entertained by Post No. 1, Victoria Native Sons and the Victoria Post of Native Daughters of British Columbia at a dinner, followed by a dance and social evening.

Grand Factor V. C. Street, of Vancouver, is presiding at the meeting, with L. W. Westendale, Victoria, as vice-grand factor.

New officers for the ensuing year will be elected Saturday.

New Benefit Group For Civil Servants

British Columbia Government Employees' Benefit Society, organized to provide medical and hospital benefits for civil servants, has been registered at the Parliament Buildings under the Societies Act.

Fanny Bay Co-operative Association, at Fanny Bay, was registered under the Co-operative Act.

Members of the British Columbia Provincial Government Employees' Association, which has branches throughout the province, are eligible for membership in the new benefit society.

First directors are John Swansborough, Victoria; John H. Wilson, New Westminster; John Dowling, Vancouver; Reginald Clements, Vancouver; Edward P. O'Connor, Vancouver; Arthur Hemming, Victoria; Walter House, Victoria; Andrew H. Durham, Victoria, and John Lowndes, Port Coquitlam.

Need Waitresses Cooks, Laborers

Men for heavy construction work, motor mechanics, body fender men, electricians and engine fitters are required by the local Selective Service office, which has 872 orders for male and female help to fill. For male workers the orders total 558, chiefly for physically able men to handle heavy construction work, C. A. Mudge, manager, stated yesterday.

In the women's section it was learned that restaurants were desperately short of help, in fact some had been forced to close. Other most important requirement was for cooks and experienced stenophaphers, preferably women who could take shorthand with speed.

Registration figures show 501 men and women seeking jobs, of which 279 were men.

Women clerks for meat shops and groceries were also in demand, with some demand for ready-to-wear clerks as extras. Already Selective Service officials are registering girl applicants for work in resort and beach hotels. Less job-changing was reported from this section with movement of service wives down to a minimum.

Commenting on decrease of women applicants for shipyard work, officials stated that possibly women who had been let out had remained at home. First girls to be let go had been absentees, poor workers, then married women with children and last of all self-supporting girls. New female employees were still being engaged by the aircraft industry, and Selective Service was accepting suitable applicants.

Casting Order for Cranes Is Secured

It was announced yesterday by Herbert S. Hammill, general manager, that the Victoria Machinery Depot Co., Ltd., had secured a contract for machine work and steering assembly on mobile cranes for Russia, which represents an initial outlay of more than $100,000.

The V.M.D. helped design these mobile cranes, and the first one was used in their No. 2 shipyard here. They proved so successful that they were brought to attention of the British and Russian Governments.

The Canadian Mixermobile Company of Vancouver received an original order for 240 of these cranes from Britain, and subsequently a similar order from Russia. The Australian Government is expected to place an order for the same number soon.

The machining and steering assemblage will mean considerable work for local shops. A statement has been made to the effect that if the V.M.D. receives many further orders they will assign some of the work to other local machine shops. The V.M.D. has already completed part of the castings order in their steel and iron foundry.
